

Kremlin Bid For Red Meet

Chinese, Soviets
No Closer On Rift Settlement

MOSCOW (AP)—A new call came from the Kremlin today for a world Communist conference on the Moscow-Peking rift, but there was no indication Chinese Premier Chou En-lai's talks with the new Soviet leaders have brought the two camps closer together.

A Moscow dispatch to L'Unita, the Italian Communist newspaper, said Chou and his Peking delegation, which came to Moscow for last week's celebration of the 47th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution, apparently were extending their visit for further talks.

An editorial today in Pravda, the Soviet party paper, said a "world Communist conference is clearly overdue."

Red China had vigorously opposed such a conference when former Premier Nikita Khrushchev called it to muster support against the Chinese. The Kremlin's new leaders, party secretary Leonid I. Brezhnev and Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, are expected to put the emphasis at such a meeting on unity and not schism.

Brezhnev raised a toast to Communist unity Monday at a farewell dinner for foreign delegations leaving after the week-end celebrations. There was no word whether Chou responded.

Tass, the Soviet news agency, said Brezhnev proposed his toast "to the unity of the fraternal community of Socialist states and Communists of all the world, to the unity of all the forces of freedom and progress on the earth, to the victories of the cause of socialism, of great Marxist-Leninist ideas."

Tass said a "warm and friendly atmosphere" prevailed at the dinner.

Chou and the Soviet leaders are assumed to be bargaining over Chinese terms for an indefinite suspension of the verbal hostilities between Peking and Moscow. The Red Chinese have indicated in recent statements that they expect the Kremlin to renounce most of Khrushchev's policies since 1956 — including destalinization and peaceful coexistence with the West.

Brezhnev reaffirmed Soviet adherence to Khrushchev's co-existence policy during a meeting last Friday night. Chou did not join in the applause.

Celebration Turns Into Nightmare

Burns from a gasoline explosion were fatal to Kimberly Kinney, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Kinney, Liberty. The explosion occurred at 3800 Greenwich, Independence about 1:30 p. m. Sunday. The girl died at 5 a. m. Monday at the Independence Sanitarium.

The accident occurred in an enclosed furnace room of the Kenneth M. Ash home in Independence. Ash is a former Sedalia. A family dinner to observe the 83rd birthday of Wilbur Ditton, 403 North Hurley, Sedalia, had been held shortly before the explosion and fire occurred.

A can of gasoline apparently was overturned while the child was alone in the room. The fumes apparently were ignited by a hot water heater in the room, the fire department said. Family members said they heard the child scream when the gas exploded, engulfing the room in flames.

Mrs. Kenneth Ditton, wife of Kenneth Ditton, owner of the Chez Wren tavern, 121 East Third, Sedalia, one of several persons seated around the table, next to the furnace room, ran into the room and fell over the child to protect her from the flames.

Ditton pulled a tablecloth from the table and spread it over Kimberly and pulled her from the room. He suffered third degree burns on his hands.

Family members and fire officials said it was not known whether the child overturned the can spilling the gasoline. The fire was confined to the fur-

LBJ Looks To Military For Savings

Defense Budget
Economy Asked
Of McNamara

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson is reviewing U.S. military commitments, looking for possible savings to help finance other administration programs.

To help in the hunt, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Secretary of State Dean Rusk meet with Johnson today at his ranch home for a top-level conference.

The President wants them to pinpoint ways to economize — particularly in the defense budget — so funds can be freed for other legislative proposals Johnson will send to Congress in January.

These proposals — including broadscale efforts to aid education and promote prosperity — are still in the drafting stage.

McNamara flew to the LBJ Ranch Monday for an intensive review of the Pentagon budget. He is expected to hold a news conference this afternoon at Bergstrom Air Force Base, Austin.

Johnson is making a fine-print study of defense spending because he wants to keep his next budget under $100 billion.

The defense budget is the prime target for penny-pinching because it accounts for more than half of all government spending — $49.9 billion this year out of an estimated $97.2 billion.

Aides said Johnson and McNamara discussed ways to "keep the highest degree of national security within the lowest possible cost."

They pictured Johnson as feeling that without strict supervision the new budget could reach $103 billion to $105 billion.

Tentative Pact In Newspaper's 120 Day Strike

DETROIT (AP) — Tentative agreement on a new contract between Detroit's strikebound daily newspapers and one of two striking craft unions was announced today by federal and state mediators.

Details of the settlement with Local 10 of the Plate and Paper Handlers Union were not disclosed, pending ratification by the union membership.

Mediators said the settlement will be recommended unanimously by the union's bargaining committee.

There still was no indication of settlement between publishers of the morning Detroit Free Press and afternoon Detroit News with Local 13 of the Printing Pressmen's Union, which walked out with Plate and Paper Handlers 120 days ago and closed down the two newspapers.

Publishers and pressmen are to resume negotiations Thursday.

School Bus Overturns; 30 Injured

BREMERTON, Wash. (AP) — "Tell daddy to get out here quick," said the excited young voice of Donna Muller, 17, into the telephone.

"There are kids cut and bleeding all over the place."

Dr. C. D. Muller thus was one of the first to reach the hillside near the city's edge where a school bus rolled over Monday afternoon, injuring about 30 of the 67 high school students it was returning to their homes.

None was hurt critically and school Supt. Bud Winderl said he believed not more than 15 were hospitalized. Most seriously hurt were three with broken arms or shoulders, suffered when they were tossed about as the bus rolled 71 feet down an embankment.

In the group was Jan Westera, about 17, an exchange student from the Netherlands, who suffered a cut over one eye.

The state patrol said driver James H. Cobb told officers he pulled to the shoulder of the road as a city bus approached. The wheels of the school bus slipped into a drainage ditch, and Cobb said he was unable to maneuver the vehicle back on the road.

Cobb said the bus rolled once, then half over again. Dr. Muller said his daughters, Donna and Pam, 15, thought it was three times.

"They said they were all over the place," he reported, "first on the side and then on the roof and then on the floor."

"They were pretty calm," said Winderl. "It's amazing how kids that age can measure up. They were helping each other out of the overturned bus and showed no signs of panic."

Donna, who was unhurt, ran to the nearest house and called her father's clinic. Her sister Pam suffered only a bruised knee.

Republicans Out to Get Burch Scalp

Dirksen, Halleck
Avoiding Hassle
On Chairmanship

WASHINGTON (AP) — Although they are interested in the outcome, it won't make much practical difference to Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana whether Dean Burch is forced out as Republican national chairman.

Because Burch was one of those who engineered the campaign in which Sen. Barry Goldwater was solidly defeated in his bid for the presidency, some Republicans are hunting for the chairman's scalp.

The Senate and House Republican leaders have avoided getting involved in this controversy. They know that the record the party carries into the 1966 elections will be forged in Congress and not by the national committee.

There have been some cries for new and younger faces in the leadership roles. But Dirksen and Halleck appear to have fortified their power base and seem unlikely to be presented with any serious challenge from within the ranks of their followers.

The national chairman is invited to sit in with them and other members of Congress in weekly meetings during the session.

Goldwater, who picked Burch and wants him retained as national chairman, has made it clear he recognizes that the party's record is made in Congress.

"This is the historical place where the real political power rests," he told a post-election news conference in Phoenix, Ariz.

Gasoline Price Fixing Probed In Kansas City

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Federal Trade Commission has ordered a second investigation of the gasoline price war in the Kansas City area this year.

"We're going to pick up where we left off last spring," said Floyd M. Brown, FTC attorney, Monday. Results of the spring hearing were not made public.

Brown said evidence of price fixing and price discrimination will be sought.

Gasoline prices have fluctuated sharply in the area all year, with regular gasoline ranging from 20 cents a gallon to 30 cents.

John Costello, executive director of the Mid-America Gasoline Dealers Association, said more than 100 service stations have had to close this year. He said most stations have had to lay off extra help. Many have reduced their hours of operations, and more are closing on Sunday.

Red China Bid for Summit To Discuss Nuclear Arms

Concert Season Underway

Features Spotlighted At Symphony's Opener

Reflected from the apron of Smith - Cotton's stage Monday night were three featured performances, launching the 1964-65 season of Sedalia Symphony Orchestra.

Spotlight one focused on Abe Rosenthal, conducting his 29th opening concert, and his orchestra. They opened with the traditional "Star Spangled Banged Banner." Weeks of practice, individually, by section and as a unit, preceded the performance.

The second spotlight was on Richard Leibert, concert organist and chief organist of Radio City Music Hall. Leibert's virtuosity was visible to the audience, for the instrument faced the orchestra at an angle, allowing viewing of the keyboards, stops, and foot bars.

A new soloist, Miss Janet Reyburn, stepped from the violin section into the third spotlight. Before her symphony piano solo debut, she was introduced by Rosenthal, who reminded patrons of the many talents who began careers at local symphony concerts. Many of those performers still are providing music with international symphony, popular and jazz groups.

Miss Reyburn played the intricate allegro first movement of Piano Concerto in D Minor. The young artist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neal O. Reyburn, 1525 West Seventh, attended two summers at Midwestern Music Camp, Lawrence, Kan., is a student of Dr. Wes True, Central Missouri State College, Warrensburg. She plans to major in music in college. Miss Reyburn's concerto was dedicated to the late Miss Mable DeWitt, a former teacher of piano.

"Herod Overture," by Henry Hadley, was added to the symphony library. Its half-time allegro energico theme leads into martial themes and cantabile passages. The orchestra also played Dvorak's Symphony in E Minor from the New World finale, number 5, opus 59; featuring brass over staccato orchestral chords, a clarinet passage and a coda of the finale's first theme. To close, selections from Rodgers and Hammerstein's "The Sound of Music," arranged by Robert Russell Bennett were played. Leibert, at Rosenthal's request, added his talents to the orchestra's.

Leibert's solo selections included a toccata by Vidor; a Bach duo, closing with "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring"; a Fritz Kreisler composition; "Largo" by Handel; and an encore, before intermission, Greig's "Hall of the Mountain King."

A composer in his own right ("Come Dance With Me" came from his pen), Leibert offered an Americana musicale after intermission. He opened with (Please turn page 8, column 4)

Republicans Lukewarm To Convention

WASHINGTON (AP) — Massachusetts Atty. Gen. Edward Brooke's call for a Republican convention next year to draft a new platform is getting only a lukewarm reception from party leaders.

A few here and there find it a clarion call for action, but most told The Associated Press in a survey they don't see any need for the party to convene before 1968, as scheduled.

The over-riding view is: "Let's wait for the dust to settle before making any major decision." Or, as Victor Smith, chairman of the GOP Central Committee in Illinois, put it: "Right now we need sober and reflective thought."

Brooke's idea draws attention partly because it is unique and partly because of his smashing victory last Tuesday while President Johnson was sweeping the state. A Negro who refused to endorse Barry Goldwater, Brooke was re-elected by almost 800,000 votes despite a 1-million-plus victory for Johnson.

In outlining his suggestion, Brooke said the convention should be held in the summer of 1965 because by 1966 the delegates "should be ready for the congressional election and then get ready for 1968."

"If they don't," he added, "then we will become rather perilously close to losing the vital two-party system of government."

The idea fell on receptive ears — to a degree — in Lansing, Mich., where Gov. George Romney said it "merits consideration." However, Romney added, an off-year convention is not provided for in present party machinery.

In Oregon, Gov. Mark O. Hatfield called Brooke's suggestion premature. Before Republicans could get together to write a new platform "we would have to have a definite reshuffling of the present leadership to get a broader consensus," he said.

Labor Party Over First Big Hurdle

Attack on Pledge
By Conservatives
Is Beaten Down

LONDON (AP) — With its first House of Commons vote safely behind it, Britain's Labor government faced another tonight and was confident of success.

By a margin of seven votes, 307, to 300, Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Laborites Monday night defeated a Conservative attack on their pledge to nationalize steel production. The vote tonight was on a Conservative motion of no confidence in Wilson's government.

The government's margin of victory was likely to be larger tonight. The nine Liberal members, who joined the Conservatives in voting against steel nationalization, were expected to abstain.

For two hours Monday night Scottish Laborites were grounded by fog in Glasgow. Since the government normally has only a five-vote majority in Commons and two Labor members were ill, Wilson appeared to face defeat after only 23 days in office. An adverse vote would have forced him to resign.

The Laborites made it from Glasgow in time for the vote, and the fog kept two Conservatives away from London. But Wilson ordered all Laborites weekending outside the capital in the future to get back by train if a critical vote was scheduled.

Small Radios Keep Chiefs 'In Touch'

WASHINGTON (AP) — It is a quiet weekend afternoon. The four-star general is out on the golf course. Suddenly, a military emergency erupts.

The general, a member of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, is nowhere near the "hot lines" that connect the Pentagon command post with his home and office. His car, with its telephone link, is back at the club house.

How to reach him? Send a messenger?

No. Call him directly — on his personal small package two-way radio.

The Defense Department said today that all of the military chiefs have such radios, which can tie them into the global U.S. military communications net.

"They do not literally carry them on their person at all times, only when away from normal communications," the Pentagon said.

All of the chiefs have been using these personal radios since early 1964 and some high officials have had them for longer than that, the department said.

The first public indication that such emergency communications devices existed came when Gen. Wallace M. Greene Jr., the Marine Corps commandant, showed one to a luncheon of the National Security Industrial Association in September.

Proposal To British Prime Minister Wilson

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Wilson said today Premier Chou En-lai of Red China has sent him a message proposing a major power summit meeting to discuss nuclear disarmament.

Wilson told the House of Commons his Labor government is consulting with Allied nations before answering the proposal.

Red China recently set off its first nuclear device, but Western scientists doubt that it has yet developed a workable nuclear bomb or the means to deliver it by plane or rocket.

On Oct. 19 Chou announced that Peking had advised world government leaders of the successful nuclear test and had called for a summit conference to ban all such weapons.

First Western reaction came from President Johnson, who urged Communist China to sign the U.S.-British-Soviet nuclear test ban treaty.

Wilson told the Commons: "I have received a message from the Chinese prime minister proposing a summit conference of all countries to be convened to discuss nuclear disarmament."

"The message is being studied and the government is consulting with other friendly governments."

Wilson's statement did not elaborate on his government's reaction to the Chinese message.

A spokesman for Wilson's official residence said later the prime minister had received no new message from Chou but was referring to the one Chou mentioned Oct. 19.

Brothers Claim Record In Military

WASHINGTON (AP) — If you know of a family whose military service record equals or tops that of the seven Kjera brothers, the Veterans Administration would like to hear from you.

"Do the Kjera brothers hold a record?" the VA asked publicly today.

It's a timely question as the nation prepares to observe Veterans Day Wednesday, the VA pointed out, for the seven Kjera brothers all served in World War II.

The brothers saw service in the Army, the Navy and the Air Corps. Six of them served overseas, and those six are still living. Each had at least three years' service.

They were born in Prairie Township, Pope County, Minn., the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. Kjera.

They are: Ingvald, 62, who served in the South Pacific with the Army. He now lives at 460 Washington St., N.W., Warren, Ohio. Ingvald wrote the VA asking if it could say whether he and his brothers could claim that their service was record-setting. The VA decided to ask publicly if anyone knew of a better record.

First State Buys Property; Plans Drive-In Window

J. E. Mitchell, executive manager of First State Savings Association, Third and Osage, announced the purchase of the Bente property at 207 West Third from Miss Minnie E. Bente. The purchase was completed Tuesday morning, however actual possession of the property will be accomplished on or before Feb. 1, 1965.

First State, according to Mitchell, plans to clear the land and install a drive-in window for the convenience of customers, and provide for additional customer parking. These improvements will probably be accomplished in the early spring.

The Bente property is immediately adjacent to the west of First State's home office, on the corner of Third and Osage.

Drought Plagues Vast Area

Colorado Wheat
Crops Near Total
Destruction

CHICAGO (AP) — An autumn drought described in some areas as the worst in history has turned hundreds of communities into emergency areas, threatened the nation's farmers with a multimillion-dollar loss in winter wheat and made forestlands fire traps.

An Associated Press survey today showed that hundreds of counties have become eligible for federal aid as wells, streams and springs have dried up and water has been pumped to farms.

The drought has taken on major proportions in New England, which the U.S. Weather Bureau said was the worst in the area's history. The bureau said the drought has extended for more than six months in four New England states.

Farmers scanned the skies grimly in the Midwest and Southwest as one of the worst moisture shortages in the 20th century began taking its toll on the winter wheat crop.

In California, the drought situation was eased by a torrential rainstorm.

One of the hardest-hit states is Colorado, where the state's entire $100-million winter-wheat crop is near total destruction because of lack of rain. The situation also was described as critical in parts of Wyoming and western Kansas.

The New England drought plagued an area from Pittsfield, Mass., to Hartford, Conn., and from Haverhill, Mass., to Concord, N.H.

The Massachusetts Department of Water reported a 30 per cent water shortage in October and described the situation as a statewide emergency.

Thousands of dairy farms are short of water in Vermont and New Hampshire.

California May Finally Get Rain

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Rain was predicted today in Southern California, where storm-triggered mudslides Monday struck with avalanche fury at areas saved earlier from dry-season brushfires.

One mudslide sluiced down a fire-denuded canyon and into a residential street, sweeping a fleeing housewife with it.

Police say Aimee Miller may have been carried three-quarters of a mile and entombed in a catch basin — along with cars, furniture and household debris — in a 20-foot-deep mass of mud.

Her husband, William, 49, singer Frank Sinatra's accompanist, tried to save his wife from their crumbling home, and was also swept away. Firemen rescued him as he clung to a car in the swirling flood.

Their daughter, Meredith, 17, climbed uphill to safety as the family's canyon home twisted and cracked under the onslaught of mud.

The Miller home was destroyed and eight others damaged in the Verdugo Hills section of Burbank, a Los Angeles suburb, which is near the scene of a major brush fire in the foothills last spring.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: I am a nine-year-old girl with a big problem. My father bought a brand new car two weeks ago. It is shiny and beautiful. My father said it is up to all members of the family to keep the car looking nice and new.

The first law my father made was that nobody is supposed to eat in the new car. A neighbor boy I like very much rides to his music lesson with me every Thursday. My mother picks me up right after school.

Last Thursday Ed got into our new car eating a baloney sandwich left over from his lunch. My mother told him to finish the sandwich before he got into the car. Ed said "O. K." but I could see he was very embarrassed.

I told my mother later I didn't think she should boss other people's children. She said to write to you for your advice. So I am writing. Please answer.—MONICA.

Dear Monica: Your mother is not "bossing other people's children." She simply told Ed he could not eat in the car, which is her privilege.

Dear Ann Landers: You'd better check your arithmetic with reference to a recent column about the fellow who loaned his brother $2,000 two years ago and is having trouble collecting.

You said "If his brother had paid him $15 a month the debt would have been half repaid by this time."

According to my calculations, $25 a month over a period of two years is $600—and that's a far cry from one half of $2,000. I would love to borrow money from you, Ann, on the basis of that kind of figuring. How about it?

I enjoy your column very much. Keep up the good work. But get yourself a calculating machine. —DAVID G. M. OF BRITAIN, CONNECTICUT.

Dear David: I can offer no explanation for the error except the obvious one. Stupidity.

Ten lashes with the cord of an adding machine for Granny Annie. I am utterly ashamed of myself (and the character who is supposed to check my arithmetic).

Dear Ann Landers: You missed the boat in your answer to "Toe Tapper," the woman who complained because one of her relatives is constantly asking her to "hold the phone" while she lets the dog out, answers the door, turns down the flame under the soup, and so on.

Doesn't "Toe Tapper" realize the world doesn't stop revolving when the phone rings? Kids don't suddenly become angels. The dog doesn't know he is supposed to wait until his master gets off the phone. The person at the door doesn't know whether you are on the phone or not.

Maybe the woman who is irritated because she is kept hanging on the line should take the hint and get off. She is the rude one, in my book.

Mail Sack Opens Again To Public

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

It has been found that about one of every 2,000 children is born with teeth. Since they are so loosely emplaced, some doctors take the teeth out to keep the child from swallowing them.

I have just been informed that a flea can lift 140 times its own weight, and if you were as comparatively strong as a flea, you could hoist a 10-ton truck.

The human eye at its ordinary strength can detect four million shades of color, science has found. It also has been found that men are about 20 times as likely as women to suffer from color blindness.

The unsleeping eye of science also has discovered that neither the tapeworm nor the hookworm has a heart.

The largest infant ever born in this world is the calf of a blue whale. At birth, the whale calf measures up to 25 feet long and weighs several tons. In contrast, a polar bear cub weighs about a pound upon emergence from its mother, and can be cuddled in a woman's hand.

History lesson: Can you name the only U.S. president who was inaugurated in two cities? George Washington was sworn first to national command in New York on April 30, 1789, and at the start of his second term in Philadelphia, Pa., on March 4, 1793.

The apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lawford in the swank Fifth Avenue hotel now is available, price: $3,200 a month — gas and electricity free. No extra charge for the elevator.

As a wry contrast to our present prosperity, it may not be out of place to point out that about 200 years ago milk sold for 9 cents a gallon, tobacco at a nickel a pound, and bread at two cents a loaf.

What price knowledge: U.S. educational authorities estimate that by 1973 it will cost a freshman $12,250 to get through a private college, or $8,000 to graduate from a state college.

Know your language: The word asbestos means in effect "the unburnable stone." The ancient Romans used napkins made of asbestos, and instead of washing them in water purified them by thrusting them into flame.

Quickies: Turtles have no "ears" but hear well. A car was stolen every 1½ minutes last year. We eat about 28 million sandwiches a day. If you get into an argument with a bear, don't try to outrun him — he may gallop up to 35 miles an hour.

It was Oliver Wendell Holmes who observed, "To be 70 years young is sometimes far more cheerful and hopeful than to be 40 years old."

Letters were shared from two young missionaries from Sedalia District, Barbara Bryant, Medford, now serving in Pakistan and Jeanette Williams, Linn Creek, serving in Taiwan. Greg Marshall, Warrensburg, told of a trip shared by other Methodist youth to institutions at various points in Northeastern United States.

The Rev. Richard Kretschmar, director of Wesley Foundation at Central Missouri State College, spoke of his work with students.

Music included gourd singing led by Mrs. Dean Scott, Clinton, and "In Times Like These" by Mrs. Harold Giberson, Mrs. Carl Low and Mrs. Adolph Anderson, Urbana; solos by Mrs. Milton Genge, Warrensburg, and Mrs. Dean Scott. Mrs. Robert Sartin, Warrensburg, was organist.

Circuit Court

Two damage judgments have been awarded in Circuit Court and a third case dismissed in law suits evolving from a four-fatality auto collision east of Sedalia on Feb. 14, 1963.

Ruby G. Chancellor, mother and guardian of James Alan and John Michael Chancellor, was awarded judgments Friday, of $6,000 on behalf of her son James Alan, and $2,000 on behalf of another son, John Michael. Attorney fees of 25 per cent were also approved.

Defendant in the actions was Robert B. Cain, administrator for the estate of the late Roy E. Gerster. The Chancellor youngsters and their mother were passengers in a car driven by Gerster which was in collision with another car on Highway 50, resulting in death to Mr. and Mrs. Gerster and two in the other vehicle.

A petition on behalf of Mrs. Chancellor was dismissed with prejudice to the plaintiff and at cost of the defendant.

The judgment on behalf of James Alan Chancellor was made on Oct. 30, then later taken under advisement by Judge Frank Hayes and not affirmed until a week later on Nov. 6.

The manager and a clerk at the LD Discount Store on south Highway 65 were charged with selling goods on Sunday in a misdemeanor warrant filed Monday in Magistrate Court by Prosecuting Attorney J. R. Fritz.

The charge is the first made in Pettis County under terms of Missouri's new Sunday sales law.

Named in the warrant are Clifford Dickey, Jr., the store's manager, and clerk Vivian Williams.

Fritz said he filed the information after items purchased at the store Sunday by two Sedalia men and their wives were brought to his office. The state warrant, however was based only on a complaint signed by P. E. Lonien.

The warrant states the defendants "unlawfully and wilfully did engage on Sunday in the business of selling and offering for sale on such day at retail an 8 x 12 inch steel square workshop tool."

Sheriff Emmett Fairfax said items turned over to them were purchased at the store by Lonien and R. E. Chestnut and the two men's wives. Both Lonien and Chestnut are managers of downtown stores — Lonien with the S. S. Kresge Company and Chestnut with Mattingly's.

South Abell 4-H Club Selects Yearly Goals

Five goals were selected by South Abell 4-H Club — health, grooming, membership and recreation. Program planning will be at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 27 at the home of George Anderson.

Names were drawn for the Christmas party, which will be at 7:30 p.m. Dec. 3 at the home of R. F. Middleton.

Juli Thomas became a new member. Twenty-four persons attended.

Oregon, Scranton and Nixon as among those who should lead in party rebuilding.

The Republicans were almost unanimous in their belief that the GOP can recover from its massive defeat and make a strong showing in 1966 and 1968.

Truax of Pennsylvania said the coalition of Democratic forces now headed by Johnson "should not be formidable if the Republican party offers progressive alternatives to Democratic dogma."

"The American people inherently move away from the type of monolithic power structure they now see in Washington and will support the Republican party with renewed vigor," he said.

Few agreed with Montana National Committeeman James E. Murphy "that we'll be back in four years with our own landslide." J. Herman Saxon, North Carolina Republican state chairman, said "unless something happens to President Johnson, I wouldn't think we have much of a chance at the White House for eight years."

Colorado's Gov. Love said that "any thought that the Republican party is dead is ridiculous."

"We will pick up governorships, congressional seats and other offices in 1966 and in 1968 we will have a GOP president," he said.

Gov. Robert E. Smylie of Idaho, chairman of the GOP conference of governors, said Republicans will have to concentrate on winning governorships two years from now in New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Nebraska, North Dakota, Colorado, Wyoming, Idaho, California and Oregon.

Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., said that with Johnson at the head of the ticket it is going to be difficult for Republicans to win in his state.

"If Hubert Humphrey were president there is no question in my mind that the Republicans would carry Texas," he said.

John Gromala, president of California Young Republicans and a strong Goldwater man, blamed the election defeat on party members who didn't support the national ticket.

Dr. Thomas Brigham, acting Alabama state chairman, said Republicans won in his state through a strong grassroots organization he predicted will spread throughout the South.

Sen. Strom Thurmond, South Carolina Democrat who turned Republican to support Goldwater, predicts "the pendulum will swing back."

Wesleyan Guild Hears Flag Talk By Miss Pontius

Wesleyan Service Guild, Epworth Methodist Church, met Nov. 3, at the home of Mrs. J. C. Rucker, 608 East 17th.

Mrs. William M. McGee gave devotions. Business meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. Shelby Hunter.

The program was given by the guest speaker, Miss Frances Pontius. Her topic was Veterans Day and Thanksgiving Day. Miss Pontius had three American flags on display.

Special music was by Mrs. Shirley A. Pahlow who played, on her accordion, "Whispering Hope" and "Onward Christian Soldiers."

Mrs. Minnie Harrington and Mrs. Edna Lawson were special guests.

The December meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Shelby Hunter.

'The Man to Watch'

See Major Role For Nixon In Rebuilding GOP Image

EDITOR'S NOTE — In this Associated Press survey, Republican leaders across the land give their views on rebuilding the party and look ahead to GOP chances in the 1966 and 1968 elections.

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Many influential Republicans across the country expect Richard M. Nixon to play a leading role in rebuilding the GOP for what most of them think will be a strong 1966 comeback.

Nixon, the 1960 presidential nominee, and GOP Govs. George Romney of Michigan, William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania and Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York were most frequently mentioned as prospective leaders of this comeback in an Associated Press survey.

The survey, reaching GOP officials in all sections of the nation, disclosed little enthusiasm for another presidential race by defeated Sen. Barry Goldwater. There were many suggestions that he yield control of the party machinery as the result of the shattering impact of President Johnson's landslide.

Nixon, who campaigned actively for Goldwater, was mentioned by Republicans from all sections of the country as a man to be reckoned with in the next four years.

Oklahoma State Chairman John W. Tyler, commented: "I think we're going to see an awful lot of Mr. Nixon real quick. I think he's the only man who can pull the party together."

South Carolina State Chairman J. Drake Edens Jr. said

Nixon "is the man you have to watch in the party." Robert L. Pierce, Wisconsin national committeeman, observed that "Nixon looks good," in party fortunes at this point. Wisconsin State Chairman Talbot Peterson said he thinks the reins of national party control should be handed to somebody like Nixon.

"I heard more good things about Nixon this time and there are some who will never be convinced that things wouldn't have been different if he had been the nominee again," Peterson said.

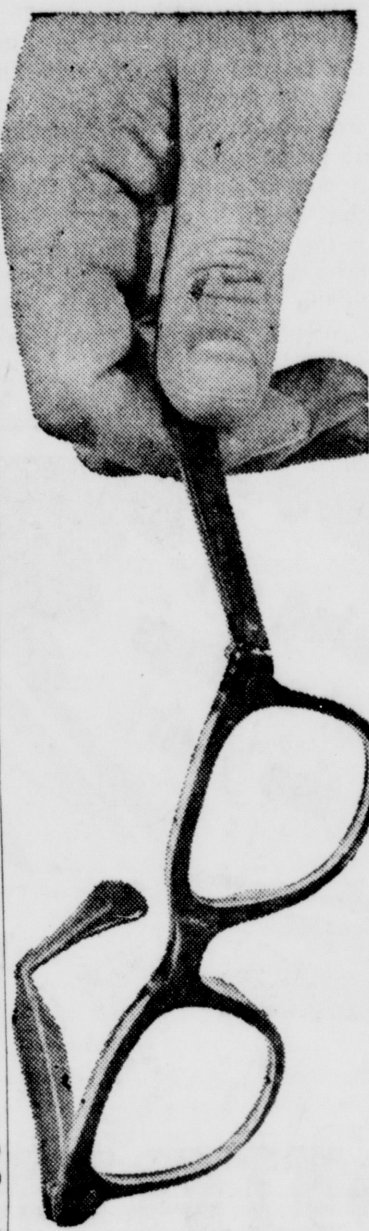

Benjamin F. Dillingham, Hawaii national committeeman, said the party should regroup around "someone who will represent the true consensus of the conservatives." He named Nixon and Scranton as possibilities. Minnesota National Committeeman George Etzell forecast that Nixon will play a strong future party role.

Next to Nixon, Romney, who won re-election handily while Johnson was carrying Michigan, was most often mentioned as the future party leader.

Gov. John H. Chafee of Rhode Island, also re-elected against the Democratic trend, called Romney and Scranton "fine leaders" who should play a part in rebuilding the party. Robert Corber, Virginia state chairman, predicted that "someone in the image of Gov. Romney" will emerge on top.

Rep. Stanley R. Tupper, R-Maine, named Rockefeller, Romney, Scranton, Chafee, Henry Cabot Lodge and Nixon as potential leaders.

Gov. Henry Bellmon of Oklahoma listed Gov. John A. Love of Colorado, Mark O. Hatfield of

Star-spangled gift idea

You can put $50 into someone's future with U. S. Savings Bonds—and the cost is only $37.50.

You can also be pretty sure your gift will be used for something pretty important. Because most people hang onto their Savings Bonds until something important comes up. Like college tuition, a new baby, and retirement day.

Something else. You give more than money with U. S. Savings Bonds. In a small—but vital—way you give freedom, too. Because Bond dollars do a lot to help Uncle Sam stand tall in this troubled world of ours.

Prices start at just $18.75 for the $25 size. Why not give Bonds to all the special people on your list this year? Yourself included.

Quick facts about Series E Savings Bonds

- You get back $4 for every $3 at maturity (7½ years)
- You pay no state or local income tax and can defer payment of federal tax until the Bonds are cashed
- Your Bonds are replaced free if lost, destroyed or stolen
- You can get your money when you need it

Columbus Park Tells Story Of Civil War on Mississippi

By LUCILE MASNOR

The Poplar Bluff American Republic For The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, Ky. (AP)—Here, high on a bluff overlooking the Mississippi River, is Columbus Belmont Battlefield State Park.

A century ago, Sept. 5, 1861, Confederate soldiers under Maj. Gen. Leonidas Polk came here and built Fort Columbus, which became known as the Gibraltar of the West.

Its purpose was to keep the Union Army from moving troops by gunboats on the river south into the Confederacy. The fort had 140 cannon and rifle pits located along its sides and in the earthworks along the rim of the bluff and at one time had as many as 32,000 men stationed there. These men dug many miles of trenches which still are visible under the greensward of the park.

Brig. Gen. Gideon Pillow, under General Polk, conceived the idea of stretching a mile long iron chain, each link weighing 15 pounds, across the river as a double caution to stop boats that might try to slip through in the night. This chain was held by a seven-ton anchor stuck into the bluff and the chain was stretched across the river floated on log rafts.

The anchor and a section of the chain are on display in the park.

The Confederates also held Belmont, a steamboat landing across the river from Columbus. It was about 17 miles east of what now is East Prairie, Mo. Its importance was the road which led from the landing into Southeast Missouri over which Union soldiers could come to attack Columbus. The Confederates had about 3,000 soldiers camped there.

General Ulysses S. Grant moved 3,144 Union troops into Cairo Nov. 7, 1861, and then down the Mississippi on gunboats and attacked Belmont.

In the one-day battle the Confederates lost Belmont and then regained it after reinforcements were sent across the river under command of General Pillow from Fort Columbus. The Union Army lost 641 men and the Confederates 498.

Fort Columbus was never attacked. General Grant moved east, captured Fort Henry on the Tennessee River, then took Fort Donelson, cutting off Fort Columbus from its supplies.

On Feb. 28, 1862, General Polk was ordered to evacuate Fort Columbus and the Union soldiers then occupied the fort and held it for the rest of the war.

The park also contains the old Civil War hospital built by the St. Paul's Women Hear Of Responsibility

St. Paul's Lutheran Ladies met recently in the church basement.

Scripture reading and topic, "Responsible Members of Christ Body," was given by the Rev. Walter Strickert, preceded by the singing of two hymns.

Mrs. Arthur Wagenknecht, the president, presided. There were 19 members present and one guest, Mrs. Wineberg.

The president gave a report on LWML zone rally at which there were 183 present with an offering of $147.91. The Rev. Donald Veitengruber was guest speaker.

The December meeting will be a luncheon at the Coffee Pot with a 50 cent gift exchange.

Refreshments of pumpkin pie and whipped cream were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Lillian Mosier and Mrs. Alva Rasa.

The meeting closed with The Lord's Prayer.

FAIR ENOUGH—Hawaii will have fair representation in the new Congress. Democratic voters elected Mrs. Patsy Takemoto Mink to the House of Representatives as the first woman of Oriental ancestry ever to sit in Congress. She is well known for her work in the legislature when the state was still a territory.

Confederates and then used by the Union soldiers. The building was restored in the 1930s and is now a museum.

Throughout the park are relics of Civil War days; stacks of hand-molded cannon balls; sections of old cannons mounted on cement bases and the old hand-made anchor and chain.

Cambodia Bitterness Build Up

ANLONG KRES, Cambodia — Life in this sleepy village of 60 inhabitants had always been easy. But on Oct. 20 the town became the center of an international crisis that threatened relations between Cambodia and the United States.

On that day three South Vietnamese Skyraider planes bombed and strafed the village, less than a mile from South Viet Nam's border. Eight villagers were killed and eight were injured.

South Viet Nam said pilots had mistaken the village for a Viet Cong hideout. Cambodia's chief of state, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, charged it was further evidence of Vietnamese and American aggression against Cambodia.

In succeeding days the incident expanded into a greater crisis. Around the problem was raised a bigger question — are the Viet Cong receiving safe harbor in Cambodia? Cambodia says absolutely not; South Viet Nam says they are; neither contention has been proven.

At least eight major incidents have occurred along the ill-defined 600-mile border this year. Each one has led to increased bitterness in Cambodia toward the United States.

After the latest one, Oct. 24, in this same village when Skyraiders again strafed and fired rockets, Sihanouk declared he would break diplomatic relations with the United States if another major border "aggression" occurred. He also threatened to recognize the Viet Cong and North Viet Nam.

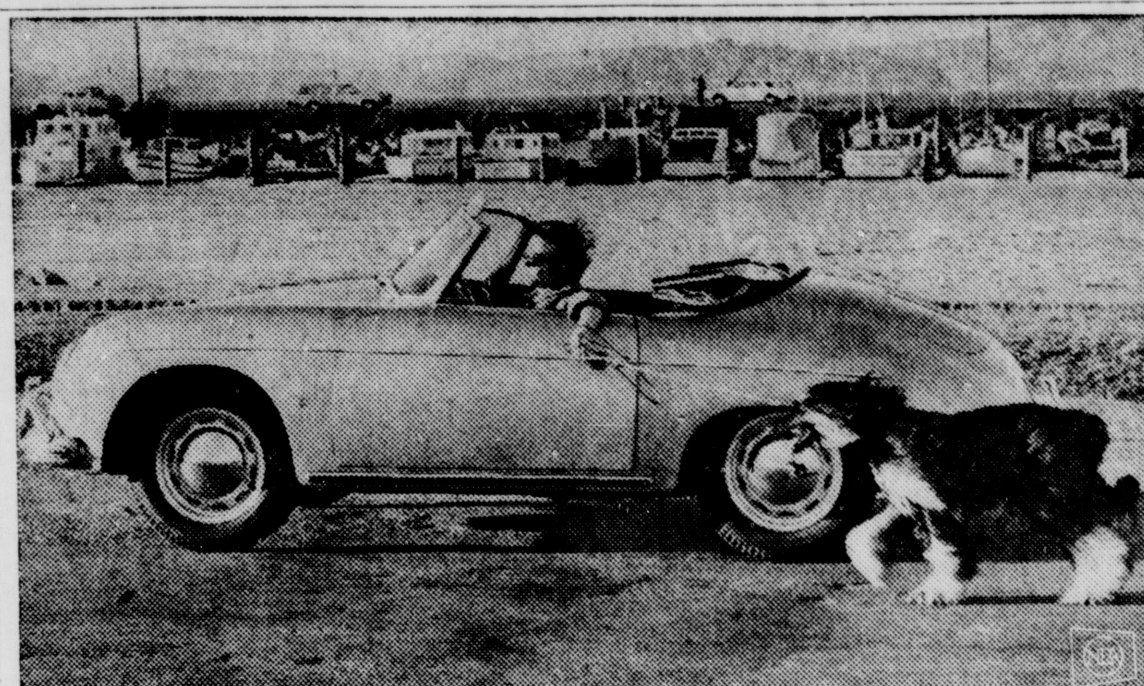

The first real clash occurred March 17 at Chantrea. A bombing of the village was followed by the entry of Vietnamese government troops, including an American adviser. Anti-American feeling, already running high when the U.S. Information Agency library was sacked the week before, flared anew.

On May 2, two more border incidents occurred, including the capture of a South Vietnamese armored personnel carrier by Cambodian troops. On Aug. 28, another clash occurred along the Mekong River, which flows through Cambodia and into South Viet Nam.

Then on Oct. 20 the village of Anlong Kres was hit, further weakening the U.S. position in this strategically located country.

On Oct. 22, while the International Control Commission visited the village, Cambodia claims two F101 reconnaissance jets flew over the village. The next day, Cambodia says, 101s again swung over the village and into Cambodian territory.

On Oct. 24, after Cambodia had moved anti-aircraft guns into the village, Cambodian army officers on the scene said 101s with U.S. markings flew over the village three times.

Annual Flood of Money Into Christmas Channels

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — An annual flood of money is spilling into pre-Christmas business channels.

It is the $1,774,172,000 saved this year by 14,750,000 Christmas Club members.

The money is being distributed by 9,900 banks and savings and loan associations throughout the country.

It compares with savings of $1,659,430,000 last year.

"This substantial increase in Christmas savings forecasts good Christmas business," says Edward F. Dorset, president of "Christmas Club A Corporation."

The Christmas Club has been promoting the savings program since 1910.

A survey by the club indicates that 38.11 per cent, or $676,136,949 will go for Christmas purchases; 31.29 per cent, or $555,138,419, for savings and investment for future use; 12.51 per cent, or $221,948,917, for taxes; 6.19 per cent, or $109,821,247, for year-end bills; and 11.9 per cent, or $211,126,468, for miscellaneous uses.

Four states account for about 50 per cent of the total membership and savings. They are New York, 2,849,339 members and $376,593,264 in savings; Pennsylvania, 1,845,891 and $227,890,681; New Jersey, 1,234,126 and $181,054,946; and California, 1,154,167 and $186,810,024.

Dorset says a survey indicates that 45 per cent of the members felt that their 1964 checks represented money that never would have been saved without the systematic plan.

The savings plan is based on the psychology of obligation. It has been described as a convenient, fairly painless way for people to trick themselves into saving money and developing the habit of thrift.

The program gets under way each November with members signing up to save anywhere from 50 cents to $20 a week for 50 weeks.

The banks pay no interest on the deposits and some levy a small service charge.

The club was founded in 1910 by the late Herbert F. Rawll,

Food Production Lag Recorded In Asia

MANILA (AP) — Asia's food production lags behind its population growth and the region faces "a crisis such as has never faced the world before," the director-general of the U.N. Food and Agriculture Organization warned today.

Director-General B. R. Sen told the seventh session of the FAO regional conference for Asia and the Far East, "I do not plead for desperate deeds, but I do ask for unremitting effort."

The conference opened Saturday and will last through Nov. 23. It is being attended by 73 delegates from 19 countries.

who sold printed forms and supplies to banks and businesses.

Rawll came across a plan being operated by Carlisle Trust Co. in Carlisle, Pa. He obtained the rights and set out to sell it to other banks.

Rawll based his sales approach on the idea that while the money deposited for a year would not materially help the banks it would bring potential customers for other services into the banks.

Christmas Club A Corporation makes its money selling to banks the printed forms and supplies needed in the program.

Young Mothers Discussed By Wesley WSCS

"The Young American Mother — Who is She?" was the program given Nov. 5 by Mrs. Norris Spencer for Woman's Society of Christian Service at Wesley Methodist Church. She was assisted by Mrs. Gene Crowder, Mrs. Ruby Mark, Mrs. Frank Meyer and Mrs. Hank Monsees.

Mrs. R. M. Stonner presided. Greeters were Mrs. Van Jones and Mrs. Charles Oswald.

A short program for Call to Prayer and Self-Denial was given by Mrs. Walter Diehl, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Hank Monsees, who gave scripture, and Mrs. Frank Meyer, Mrs. Glenn Cromley and Mrs. Max Shirky, who reported where special offerings are sent.

Mrs. Julia Richardson sang a solo.

Plans were made for the 2 p.m. Nov. 10 Harvest Tea at the church.

Closing meditation was given by Mrs. Harold Hausam. Luncheon was served by Circle 6, Mrs. Cleo Maxwell, chairman.

Watch Vote Canvass In Tight Nevada Race

RENO, Nev. (AP) — Representatives of the Democratic and Republican national committees are in Nevada today observing a canvass of votes cast in last Tuesday's election for Sen. Howard W. Cannon, seeking re-election, and Republican challenger Paul Laxalt.

Sunday Cannon's lead shrank to 64 votes.

Cannon had led by 114 votes in the unofficial state tally, but the official canvass in Lander County gave Laxalt 50 votes more than earlier reported.

A recount may be ordered to decide the winner. The official state canvass is Nov. 25 and the deadline for conducting a recount is Dec. 3.

Forest Fire Hazards Are Rising

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Forest fire hazards are rising in many parts of Missouri as prolonged drought continues.

Lee Fine, fire control supervisor for the State Conservation Commission, said today it has been 40 to 45 days since some areas have had any rain.

Showers Friday and Saturday in south central and southwestern Missouri along with higher humidity prevented any weekend forest fires but the danger mounts as the rains continue to hold off.

Fine appealed to hunters to be very careful in the woods and to take some basic fire fighting equipment with them, such as rakes and shovels.

Last year hunters and residents of wooded areas gave excellent cooperation, Fine said. Hunting seasons sometimes have been curtailed because of drought conditions.

"If they cooperate again this year," Fine said, "we won't have any trouble."

Two major hunting seasons open this week.

Tuesday is the opening of what is expected to be an excellent quail season. It runs through Jan. 15. And Friday the gun season on deer opens for a seven-day run.

The Missouri quail crop has been described as the third best in the past 17 years. The best areas are in the Ozarks and possibly the worst in the heavily farmed northwestern portion. The daily and possession limits are the same this year, 10 birds.

Deer hunting will be open in all counties of the state but there are 20 counties in which bucks only are legal game. In the rest of the state hunters may kill bucks, does or fawns. These are the bucks only counties:

Barton, Bates, Cape Girardeau, Cass, Dade, Dunklin, Greene, Henry, Jackson, Jasper, Lafayette, Lawrence, Mississippi, New Madrid, Pemiscot, Pettis, Polk, Saline, Scott and Vernon.

All counties north of the Missouri River are open to any deer hunting. Shooting hours during the gun season are 6:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Archers will have to conform to the shooting hours if they hunt during gun season. The rest of their special archery season, bowhunters may hunt from 5:30 a.m. to 6 p.m.

During a similar gun season last year, there were 17,304 deer killed in Missouri by gunners, including farmers who hunted on their own land and did not need deer hunting permits.

The First World War

The Race to the Sea: 12

Written By PHILIP VAN DOREN STERN for Newspaper Enterprise Association

Illustrated By John Lane

After the German advance had been stopped at the Battle of the Marne early in September 1914, both sides realized that the western ends of their lines were exceedingly vulnerable. A series of rapid encounters took place, in which each army tried to outflank the other.

Before these battles began, however, the Germans besieged Antwerp late in September and compelled the Belgian army to evacuate the city. What was left of this army made their way along the coast to the Yser River, which flows from France through Flanders to Nieuport. They defended that tiny corner of Belgium so well that they kept it free throughout the war. At the end of October, the locks at Nieuport were opened to let in the North Sea, which flooded the low ground and helped to protect the area. Meanwhile, on Oct. 12, British, French and German cavalry met head on in the sector between La Basse and Armentieres. They did not fight on horseback but on foot, as dismounted Union and Confederate cavalrymen had done during the later part of the Civil War. The Germans were stopped but only temporarily, for they were stronger in men and guns. On Oct. 20 they attacked the British in front of Nieuport. And on that same day British troops arrived at Ypres (rhymes with zebra) to defend the ridge east of that important communications center.

Starting on Oct. 30, Ypres became one of the most hotly contested sectors of the war. Shells kept falling there for four years. From Nov. 11 to 22, 1914, the fighting around Ypres (or "Wipers") as the British called it, was so intense that there were 250,000 casualties on the field. And as was so often to be the case in this war, nothing decisive was accomplished.

The armies were still using obsolete tactics against modern quick-firing, long-range weapons. The high command had to learn the lesson the hard way—over mountains of corpses. In order to learn, nearly a whole generation of young men was sacrificed.

The Western Front was now complete. It extended 400 miles from the Swiss border to Nieuport on the North Sea. It was to remain almost unchanged for four years while incredibly bloody struggles went on to gain a few feet of land that was often lost again, in the seemingly endless conflict.

Cooper New TV Boss For Screen Gems

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The name seems incongruous amid the plush spaciousness of his executive suite. He is production boss of one of television's biggest enterprises — $64 million gross business last year.

But he is still called Jackie Cooper.

For six months, the onetime "Skippy" has been functioning as studio head for Screen Gems, the television giant that produces "Hazel," "The Donna Reed Show," "Farmer's Daughter" and the hit of the 1964-65 season, "Bewitched."

"We'll have between six and a dozen pilots ready for submission for next season's shows," Cooper declared. "These are shows in which we have pride. I don't expect all of them to sell, but I think a good proportion might."

He added that one of his missions at Screen Gems has been to diversify its product. Whereas the firm has previously specialized in domestic comedies, Jackie now has projects for half-hour dramas, which he believes will be the new trend, specials—upcoming: Inger Stevens' tour of Sweden—day-time serials on tape, game shows and sports presentations.

The executive turn in Jackie's career is something he had planned, though not in the way it happened.

"I had hoped to head a production firm," he remarked, "but I thought I would probably have to build it through my own company, creating two or three shows. The Screen Gems offer was a happy surprise."

The Jackie Cooper saga is a story of how to survive in a changing industry. Most child stars in films never sustain their success as adults—possibly because they try to remain in films.

When there was scant demand for Jackie's services in Hollywood after the war, he went to New York to sharpen his talents on the stage, then in television. "I didn't want to be the last actor to leave live TV," he said, "so I came back here to do a filmed series, 'The People's Choice.' I never enjoyed doing the show, not a single day of it. But it accomplished what I wanted."

"I did enjoy an occasional show of 'Hennessey,' and I liked being on the production end. Now that I'm in this job, I do miss directing now and then. Miss acting? Not a bit."

"I won't say I'll never act again, because that would be a foolish prediction. But after 40 years of it—I started when I was 2 years old—I think I've had my share. There's not much that could lure me back."

Winners Try To Pour Oil On Waters

WASHINGTON (AP) — A couple of winners—one from each party — tried Monday to pour oil on the troubled Republican waters.

President Johnson praised his Republican Cabinet members and said the GOP has an important and vital role to play in national life.

Gov. George Romney of Michigan, who survived the Democratic landslide spearheaded by Johnson, implied that the Republican Governors Association should not concern itself with the future of GOP National Chairman Dean Burch.

The comments came as Republicans continued to assess the results of last Tuesday's election. In an Associated Press survey of state GOP leaders, a good many suggested that Sen. Barry Goldwater—and his personal choice for chairman, Burch—should give up leadership of the Republican party.

And many of these same leaders predicted a greater role in the party for former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the 1960 GOP presidential nominee.

The President's comments came in a copyright interview in U.S. News & World Report. He expressed pride in the work of such Cabinet members as Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon and Director John McCone of the Central Intelligence Agency. He called them "good Republicans and good Americans."

And, said Johnson, "I was very proud during the campaign to have the active support of four former members of the Cabinet under President Eisenhower."

"I anticipate that some of those Republicans who supported us during the campaign will resume an active role in leading the Republican party on a constructive course to maintain the bipartisanship in government which is so essential to America's success in all fields," Johnson said.

Romney told a news conference Monday that Burch's future as national chairman "is the direct responsibility of the national committee—not the Newspaper advertising makes things happen.

There's something about the very nature of the newspaper that stimulates buying action, whatever the product. Maybe it's because the newspaper has an atmosphere of action and urgency. Maybe it's because its pages are full of what's going on right now... right here... today, the community in print every day.

Whatever it is, it gives the newspaper's advertising something extra and makes it more immediate, more compelling. That's why advertisers invested $3.7 billion in newspapers last year to generate buying action among the 100 million readers — all of them potential buyers — who shop the newspaper day after day.

Reconciled To Nuclear Force Delay

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States appears to be reconciled, although reluctantly, to a stretch-out in the timetable for concluding a draft agreement on formation of a sea-borne nuclear missile force within the Atlantic Alliance.

The timetable had set up a year-end target date for the proposed agreement, which is being hammered out by working group of North Atlantic Treaty Organization representatives in Paris.

Belgian Foreign Minister Paul Henri Spaak said after a conference with Secretary of State Dean Rusk Monday that French opposition to the nuclear-force project had opened up a lot of questions that would take some time to answer. He dismissed talk of any final agreement in the immediate future.

U.S. officials conceded today that the vigorous campaign against the multilateral nuclear force — MLF — recently launched by French President Charles de Gaulle has badly tangled an already complicated situation.

But the real reason for delay now is the fact that Britain's new Labor government needs some time to develop NATO nuclear plans of its own.

The Labor party has advocated that Britain get out of the nuclear weapons field entirely and rely primarily on the power of the United States for protection.

Rusk apparently still hopes to get the Paris committee of diplomats to conclude a draft agreement if possible by the end of the year.

Officials now say that the United States certainly is interested in whatever new ideas the British Labor government will put forward and understands the need for a delay in any final action for a reasonable time into 1965. The "reasonable time" is defined by officials here as meaning a delay of weeks and not months.

British Prime Minister Harold Wilson is expected here in about a month for talks with President Johnson. U.S. officials hope then to get some more precise ideas of just what nuclear weapons plans the new British government has in mind.

Ozark Forces Drive Wedge In Sioux Line

FT. LEONARD WOOD, Mo. (AP)—Ozark ground forces have driven a wedge 28 miles deep into the Sioux forces positions in the U.S. Strike Command's exercise, Gold Fire I.

Helicopters, fighter planes and huge cargo aircraft were used in the counter attack Monday that carried Ozark troops across the Big Piney River.

The helicopters lifted more than 400 troops and 23 vehicles to objectives behind the "enemy" front and the troops soon linked up with men who attacked across the river.

As part of the test of combined air-ground operations, a C-130 cargo plane carried a command and control center aloft, enabling the commander to watch the action from the air. The center consists of a capsule which contains 12 men and all necessary communications equipment. The capsule can handle radar, television and electronic intelligence information.

Friend We Have In Jesus" and "Now the Day is Over," accompanied on the organ by Mrs. Merle Matthews.

Pallbearers were John Hardy, Gail Higgins, George Talley, Marvin Parrott, Kenneth Emig and Leopold Courty.

Burial was in the Knob Noster Cemetery under the direction of the Gouge Funeral Home, Windsor.

Mrs. Ida Young

Funeral services were held at 10 a. m. Tuesday at St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Pilot Grove, for Mrs. Ida Twenter Young, 83, Pilot Grove, wife of William C. Young, who died Sunday morning at St. Joseph's Hospital, Boonville. The Rev. Edwin Strum, pastor, officiated.

Burial was in the church cemetery.

Arrangements were under the direction of the Hays - Painter Funeral Home, Pilot Grove.

James Edgar Reed

Funeral services were held at 10 a. m. Tuesday at the McLaughlin Chapel for James Edgar Reed, 76, 1438 South Carr, who died at the home of his nephew, William Lower, where he had been making his home the past two months. Dr. Garner Odell, pastor of Broadway Presbyterian Church, officiated.

Following the service the body was taken to Kansas City for cremation.

'Storm' Breaks Up

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A tropical depression, watched the past two days for possible storm development, was breaking up along the Yucatan coast 500 miles southwest of Miami today.

The Weather Bureau said the disturbance was weak and disorganized, consisting mostly of showers with occasional winds up to 25 miles an hour.

NBC Series Based On JFK's Book

NEW YORK (AP) — John W. Davis won the Democratic presidential nomination on the 103rd ballot that hot summer of 1924, and Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama not only lost but also failed to win renomination to the Senate. He lost because he resolutely turned his back on the Ku Klux Klan, whose votes controlled the nomination.

That, in essence, was the story told in the first program of NBC's "Profiles in Courage" series Sunday night. Based on the best-selling book written by John F. Kennedy when he was still in the Senate, it promises to be an intelligent and entertaining addition to a season notably lacking in interesting dramatic fare.

Underwood's opposition to the secret organization was partly strategy to eliminate his rival William G. McAdoo, but more than that, it was personal conviction. The moment of climax in the drama came when Underwood was offered the necessary Klan votes of delegates — if he would promise not to make them a campaign issue.

"I think I'll go out and get some fresh air," was his response.

Sidney Blackmer played Sen. Underwood of Alabama with dignity and without heroics.

Victor Jory, playing Underwood's hard-working and skillful manager, at one point quoted Homer Cummings: "The first function of a politician is to get himself elected. Everything else is a splendid redundancy."

Radio was there, too, and a reporter kept shouting the convention story into one of those big, old-time microphones. If the story had a weakness, it was this rather primitive way of keeping us informed of the background events.

All in all, however, it was an auspicious start. The welcome mat is certainly out for future programs.

Features

Colorado Wheat Crop Ruined By Drought

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — The entire $100-million winter wheat crop in Colorado may be wiped out by drought.

Even a drenching rain or snow would come too late to help, a state official said Sunday. Laurence Phelps, director of Administrative Services for the Colorado Agriculture Department, termed the severe dryness which started three years ago the worst drought since the 1930s.

The income of Colorado farmers has fallen from $178 million in 1961 to $135 million last year and "every town in the state is in economic trouble," Phelps said. He said continued dry weather would "wipe out the entire wheat crop."

No Mail Delivery On Veterans' Day

Wednesday, Nov. 11, being Veteran's Day and a legal holiday, there will be no delivery of mail either on the rural or city routes. All service windows in the lobby of the post office will be closed with the exception of the firm call window in the lock box section. This window will be open in the morning 7:30 a. m. to 8:30 a. m. for lock box patrons to receive mail too large to be placed in the boxes.

The regular holiday collection schedule posted on street letter boxes will be maintained. Special delivery mail will be delivered.

Seeks Home For His 300 Pound Lion

WILLOW GROVE, Pa. (AP) — If you are looking for a full-grown, 300-pound lion for your backyard, Howard Sautter has one and he is looking for a new home for Leo.

"He's tame, and so crippled that he can't jump two feet, and I'll pay $1,000 to anyone who can prove he roars," Sautter says. But local authorities say Leo must go—and go he will.

"It's a lot better to be sure that he gets a good home now than to keep him longer and have to give him away quick later," said Sautter, 52, a gas station operator who has kept Leo in a cage in his backyard or in the garage for 21 months. Sometimes, Sautter would take Leo out on jobs with him, seating him on the tow truck seat beside him.

The Abington Township commissioners, after receiving a petition from Sautter's neighbors, ruled that Leo was a public nuisance and would have to go.

Sautter at first said he would fight it. "He doesn't bother anybody," he said. "I'm going to get a lawyer and fight this all the way."

Sautter told a newsman Monday night that he had changed his mind and had told the commissioners in this Philadelphia suburb that he'll get rid of Leo as soon as he can find a proper home.

"I thought it would be better all around that way," he said, "though we are very fond of him and it's going to be tough to get rid of him."

He bought Leo as a 3-month-old cub for $250.

Sautter said he has no ill feelings toward most of the neighbors who signed the petition.

"Of the 50 or so who signed the petition, I've had trouble with just 12," he said.

Ag Fame Hall Hires Curator, Plans Opening

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP)—The Agriculture Hall of Fame's executive board has hired a curator and scheduled the opening of its first exhibition hall for next May 11.

Elmo John Mahoney, 56, of Dorrance, Kan., a wheat farmer and former legislator, was named curator at a meeting of the board Monday. He will assume his duties Sunday.

Mahoney, a collector of antique farm machinery, has been a consultant to the U.S. Department of Agriculture the last three years, is a former mayor of Dorrance, and helped organize the Kansas Wheat Growers Association.

The first exhibition building at the site near Bonner Springs is 90 per cent complete, the board was told by Harry L. Bryson, executive vice president of the hall. Cost of the building will be $700,000.

Plans for the $6 million project call for 10 buildings on 275 acres. The project is being financed by contributions. About 16,000 gifts have been received from South Dakota, Ohio, Indiana, Texas and Kansas.

Tunisian Voters Back President

TUNIS, Tunisia (AP) — The government announced today that President Habib Bourguiba received 96.43 per cent of votes as Tunisia's only presidential candidate in Sunday's balloting.

Government figures showed 91 per cent of the country's registered voters went to the polls to confirm Bourguiba in power for another five-year term. They also approved a slate of 90 members of the National Assembly named by the ruling Socialist Destourian party.

Interact Club Operations Told Rotary

Three Blue Springs, Mo., high school boys gave a report on the founding and first year of operation of their new Interact Club at Blue Springs before the members of the Sedalia Rotary Club Monday noon at Hotel Bothwell.

The Interact Club concept was fostered by Rotary International and stands for International Action for youth. The Blue Springs Club was the first founded in Missouri. There are now five clubs in Missouri as well as many such clubs in this country and throughout the world.

John Coulson, president, explained the international project for his club is the sponsorship of a foreign exchange student which will cost $700. The club is in the process of raising necessary funds through diversified projects which include newspaper and magazine subscription sales, car washing and a pancake breakfast. Community projects for the club include bottling water for civil defense, painting traffic lines in Blue Springs streets, and a campaign to help discourage high school dropouts.

Only those student members of the high school sophomore, junior and senior classes who rank scholastically among the top 15 per cent of their class are eligible for membership in an Interact Club, according to Coulson.

Also appearing on the program were Mickey Barnett, treasurer, and Terry Porter, secretary.

The boys were introduced by Hansel Lowe, Rotary member and advisor of the Blue Springs Interact Club. Charles Allen, a member of the Kansas City Rotary Club and present district governor of Rotary District 607, introduced Lowe and told of the excellent accomplishments Lowe was achieving in his work with the youth of Blue Springs.

Omer West, president, recognized the following members who observe November birth dates: Dr. C. Gordon Stauffer, William Klang, Robert Johnson, John Brown, Richard Johnson and Bernie Devine.

The Rev. Marvin Sackschewsky, pastor of Our Savior Lutheran Church, was presented by Donald Barnes as a new member of the Sedalia Club.

Jake Summers reported an excellent turnout for the first showing Friday night on the "Travel and Adventure" series being sponsored by the Sedalia Rotary Club. Admittance Friday night was by complimentary ticket, however, the remaining six showings in the series will be by season ticket. A goal of 1,000 season ticket sales has been set and sales are good, according to Summers.

Guests presented by Robert Phillips were: Milt Hinklein, a former member of the Sedalia Club recently of Sebring, Fla.; Wayne Stackhouse, guest of Jerry Harlan; Morton Wendt, guest of Charles Wendt, and student guests Barry Wallace and Tom Trout.

Invocation was given by Kirk McCrary. Group singing was led by Elmer McClung with Mrs. Lillian Maynard as piano accompanist.

Downtown Buildings Are Spruced Up

THE SEDALIA DEMOCRAT—Sedalia, Mo., Tues., Nov. 10, 1964

NEW FRONT—A new front on the lower part of the Bichsel Jewelry Co., 217 South Ohio, with the upper part of brick being painted white, has made an outstanding improvement to the building. The new sign, too, in black, and the each lights of black metal beneath it is very attractive. New black glass has been installed around the lower part.

THE VFW building in the 100 block on South Ohio has a new front of blue-green combined with glass blocks and small glass windows in modern design. Over the new birch door that opens to a vestibule, with one door to the first floor and another to the second floor, is a new metal awning.

ONE OF THE MOST unusual new fronts on downtown stores is the one at Bowman's Paint and Wallpaper Co., 608 South Ohio. A gabled roof adds a homey touch to the building's front. (Democrat-Capital photos)

THE ENTIRE 100 block on South Ohio has perked up on the east side of the street, with new fronts, painting and the Garden Motor Bank of the Union Savings. Among the new fronts that has completely changed the looks of the building is the one at 117 South Ohio where the N. P. Meyers building has a new front of surf green with white trim. White metal awnings have been placed over the second story windows adding to the appearance of the building, as well as the big awning on the first story. Entrance doors are at an angle to the two businesses occupying the building.

Building Collapses, Thirty-three Dead

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP) — The toll of known dead in the collapse of a new 15-story building has risen to 33. At least 21 others are missing.

An unofficial source blamed the disaster at Piracicaba last Friday on low quality concrete.

Thanksgiving supper will be held Nov. 19 at Bryson School. Cake, cookies, coffee and lemonade were served.

The next meeting will be Dec. 3 at the home of Mrs. Chester Williams.

Green Ridge Gardeners Plan for Yule

Mrs. Raymond Lemke, assisted by Mrs. Gertrude Helman, Mrs. Mary Ulmer and Mrs. Katie Bruns, entertained Green Ridge Garden Club Nov. 6, at her home, west of Green Ridge.

Mrs. W. L. Wittall presided and Mrs. Frances Baslee presented a Christmas program. She read "The Christmas Story," according to Luke and told about Christmas customs and origins in the United States. She displayed inexpensive Christmas decorations she had made and told how to make them.

Mrs. Verna Palmer appointed committees for 1965. Chairmen are: program, Mrs. W. L. Wittall; social, Mrs. Frances Baslee; publicity, Mrs. J. A. Gordon; activity, Miss Nola Barrow; judge, Mrs. Wilford Acker; membership, Mrs. Carl E. Johnson; budget, Mrs. Ethel Sims; birds, Mrs. W. L. Brown; conservation, Miss Ruth Pfaff; therapy, Mrs. Verna Palmer; garden center, Miss Ruth Pfaff; flower show co-chairmen, Mrs. Wilford Acker and Mrs. Gertrude Helman; schedule, Mrs. Wilford Acker; litterbug, Mrs. Otis McNew; chairmen of state fair exhibits, horticulture, Mrs. Verna Palmer; arrangements, Mrs. Wilford Acker.

Mrs. Gertrude Helman reported for the program committee for 1965. Theme for the year is "Gardening Interests." Miss Nola Barrow reported for social committee for 1965.

Members decided to give blue, red and white ribbons instead of using the point system. Arrangements, specimen flowers, plants and vegetables will be judged on merit in 1965.

The club decided to buy new books and magazines for the gardening center.

Each member is to bring a box of cookies to the December meeting to be distributed as Christmas remembrances.

Dessert course was served to 23 members and one guest, Mrs. Harold B. Lawson, San Francisco, Calif.

Claude Elkins Promoted By California Bank

Claude J. Elkins, Bellflower, Calif., native Sedalian, has been promoted to assistant vice president of Crocker-Citizens National Bank, Los Angeles, Calif. He will work with 17 branch offices, assisting managers in operational and administrative matters.

Recently assistant cashier of the bank, Elkins joined the organization in 1953 with eight years previous banking experience. He is active in Bellflower YMCA Indian Guides, is married and has four children.

Elkins is the son of the late Claude J. Elkins, and Mrs. Gertrude B. Stover, Bellflower, Calif. He is grandson of the late B. V. Elkins and the late R. A. Moseby, lifetime residents of Sedalia.

"This ad kills me..."

"Incredible!"

"Ridiculous!"

"Far fetched!"

"Hooley!"

To the 5 out of 10 people who didn't believe this ad... a sporting proposition

Take a no-obligation test drive in a 1965 Ford. Maybe you just couldn't believe the ad (reprinted above) which appeared in this paper a few weeks ago. After all, many consider Rolls-Royce to be one of the world's finest cars. But Ford does ride quieter. The world's leading acoustical experts (Bolt, Beranek and Newman, Inc.) made the tests. The U.S. Auto Club certified the results.

This year's Ford has the strongest body ever... a revolutionary new frame that "tunes out" vibrations... new ultra-soft coil-spring suspensions—all contributing to the new hushed ride. But the ride is only part of what's new.

- New swept-back instrument panel adds five inches extra knee room.
- Transmission tunnel is lower than in competing cars for extra foot room.
- Trunk has more usable space than ever—holds four 2-suiters standing upright.
- New ultra-luxurious LTD series—unmatched by any other car in Ford's class.
- Silent-Floventilation (standard on 4-door hardtops) removes stale air, provides fresh air even with all windows closed.
- Exclusive new twin-edge key—works with either side up.
- Hot, but hushed, 289-cu. in. V-8 is standard equipment in XL and LTD models.
- Smooth, thrifty all-new Big Six in other models—the most powerful standard Six offered by any car in Ford's class.
- V-8 options to 425 hp.
- All Ford automatic transmissions have 3 speeds, not 2 as in many competing cars.
- Fully synchronized manual transmissions—you can even shift down to first without clashing gears.

If all this sounds like a lot for one car in offer... take a test drive. See why more people are buying Fords than ever before in post-war history.

Ancients Were Litterbugs

Amateur archeology is a popular outdoor activity in history-rich Britain.

The Times of London, summing up the past season the other day, called it a rewarding summer, both for people deliberately digging into the past and those who were merely sinking foundations and happened to run into an Iron Age camp or Roman basilica.

The Times noted that we are able to learn so much about our distant ancestors because they were litterbugs of the worst kind.

"The modern expert in this field," said the newspaper, "can derive from a few discovered stones or postholes the probable layout of a camp or settlement; but to fill in the picture, populate the scene and comprehend the customs of the time, the archeologist may be abundantly grateful for a rubbish heap."

We moderns, who frown on the habit of litterbugging and have severely curtailed it, needn't worry that we will be forgotten by the future.

We're amassing such a wealth of books, sales slips, income tax records and innumerable other printed, classified, catalogued and orderly filed information that even if only a fraction of it should survive, it will still tell historians of tomorrow more about us than they may really want to know.

The beer and soda pop cans we leave behind us will not, fortunately, last as long as the Greek amphora.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH: High Cost of Learning.—Some figures recently noted by Columbia University Graduate School of Journalism give evidence of the soaring cost of a college education. Tuition at the school was $150 a year in 1914. The figures for each succeeding 10-year period were $240, $320, $420, $650 and $1,650—today's figure. What tuition will be a decade hence was not projected, but college costs generally are likely to be prohibitive for more and more persons as time goes on. Ample scholarships are available for top students, but mediocre to poor students without funds face increasing problems in our technological society.

Women And Measles

Many mothers are exposing their little girls to German measles, because when they marry and become pregnant and get the measles they may lose the baby or it may be handicapped in some way.

The scientists working with this problem at the National Institutes of Health in Bethesda, Maryland recommend that if a woman is exposed to German measles early in her pregnancy, she should not only take gamma globulin, but have two blood tests. The tests would determine whether she was infected with the German measles or rubella virus. The first test should be given immediately, the second one or more months later depending upon the state of pregnancy.

The current estimates are that 50 per cent of babies born to women who become ill with German measles in the first month of pregnancy will develop abnormalities. If the illness comes in the first three months 18 per cent can be expected to be abnormal. Most obstetricians are aware of the

Looking Backward

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Miss Juanita Young, 521 West 11th street, clerk of the Pettis County Probate Court, was re-elected Secretary-treasurer of the Missouri State Association of Probate Judges at the closing session of the annual meeting in Kansas City. She is the first woman serving as a clerk of any probate court to hold this office. Judge J. E. Smith, of the Pettis County Probate Court, is retiring president of the association.

— 1939 —

John T. Martin, Sedalia attorney, was appointed by the Missouri Supreme Court as a member of the state bar committee of the 13th judicial circuit. He succeeds the late Lee Montgomery of Sedalia.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Great excitement was occasioned among some of the Pettis county officials by a rumor that an attempt was to be made at night to steal one or more of the ballot boxes containing ballots cast in the November 4 election. As a result a policeman was assigned to stand guard over the boxes in the basement of the temporary court house on Lamine avenue.

Economic Pressure Against Negroes

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Paul D. Wilson is one of the white men who pleaded guilty in connection with the bombing of various Negro homes and churches in the most terrorized town in Mississippi, McComb. I talked with him shortly after he was given a suspended sentence.

"Any statement by me would be unwise at this time," he said.

Wilson was at the Illinois Central Railroad when I reached him, and said that his guilt in the bombings had not interfered with his employment and that life was going on about the same. Beyond saying that the situation in McComb was not quiet, he did not want to discuss the incident.

His cousin, another confessed bomber, Billy Earl Wilson, is also still employed by the Illinois Central, a railroad partially owned by the Harriman family of New York. Averell Harriman, former Governor of New York, is now Under Secretary of State.

Two other bombers who got suspended sentences have been dropped by their employers. Ernest Zeeck was told by Western Auto Supply that he "couldn't come back at this time, we have too many Negro customers," while Murphy J. Duncan was dropped as manager of the Firestone Tire Agency in McComb.

All of this raises the question of economic pressure. This was behind the forcing of Mrs. Alyene Quin to move out of her restaurant because she was feeding Freedom Workers, and was probably behind the fact that her beer license was suspended, though the official charge was that a pint of whiskey was found on her premises.

Two-Way Economic Pressure

Economic pressure was also behind the arrest and jailing of twelve Freedom Workers for cooking for themselves in Freedom House without a health permit. Cooking is almost compulsory for them because they are welcome at not many Negro restaurants and at few white restaurants. These were some of the Freedom Workers whom America's conscience fund bailed out of jail.

Economic pressure was also involved in the firing of a Negro plumber, John T. Cotton, by the Burt Plumbing Co. after Freedom House was bombed and it was learned that the house had been leased to COFO by Willie May Cotton, John Cotton, no relation to Willie, had worked for the Burt Plumbing Co. for 20 years.

Economic pressure is also behind the requirement that Negroes who register to vote list their places of employment.

But economic pressure can be a two-way street, and what some thinking Mississippians worry about is the fact that under the new Civil Rights Law, President Johnson has the power to cut the vast flow of federal funds to the state.

So far, federal officials in Washington have been so blithely unconcerned about the racial showdown in Mississippi that most Mississippians don't fear economic retaliation.

Philadelphia, Miss., Benefits
For instance, at the very same time President Johnson was spurring the FBI into great activity to apprehend those guilty of murdering three Civil Rights workers at Philadelphia, Miss., another agency of the Johnson administration was handing $33,400 over to Philadelphia for improving its airport.

The FAA's explanation is that this was a routine recommendation made by a local inspector, which was OK'd in Washington in conformity with the law. In Mississippi, however, the grant of $33,400 gave the impression to white racists that they could both thumb their noses at the government and simultaneously get subsidized by the government.

Another example: Last summer, the Post Office Department in Washington handed $25,400 to Byron de la Beckwith, after he had been charged with the shooting from ambush of Medgar Evers, Mississippi head of the NAACP. Beckwith got off with a hung jury.

Explanation for the Post Office's generous payment to Beckwith after the murder trial was that it was a routine matter. Beckwith owned some land in Jackson which the Post Office Department wanted.

In Mississippi these matters are not regarded as routine, however. The white community considers them an indication that Washington is not overly concerned with murder, crime, and bombings. But with the Negro community, these federal handouts increase bitterness.

Where the economic pinch would really hurt, however, is if Civil Rights leaders in Washington induced the Defense Department and the Northern buying public to start boycotting the tremendous output of textiles, hosiery, lingerie, and cotton goods produced in Mississippi mills which don't even begin to give Negro employment a fair break.

Late Returns from the Big Cities

The World Today

Look to Shortening of Campaigns

By HARRY KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP)—Hubert H. Humphrey bounded down the steps of his campaign plane in Southern Illinois not many weeks ago and received a welcoming serenade of that old Democratic battle song, "Happy Days Are Here Again." He'd heard it countless times. But on this day it was played with a rock 'n' roll beat.

It was jarringly symbolic of how the old meshes with the new in today's campaigning. The horse-and-buggy politicking of torchlight rallies and street-corner harangues are now played out to a faster, more exhausting rhythm by jet planes and modern communications.

Despite the swifter pace the presidential campaigns appear to grow no shorter. Some argue they are longer than ever. If one consensus has emerged from this political season it is that presidential campaigns are too long. Too long for the candidates, too long for the people.

On Election Day, Sen. Barry Goldwater looked back on months of speeches and thousands of miles of travel and decided that U.S. election campaigns are so long they are silly. As for the candidate's lot of having to utter the same speeches day after day, he said, "That can drive you nuts."

There is usually grumbling of one sort or another from the loser. This time there was some grumbling from the winning team, too.

Humphrey, who actually enjoys stumping, started out with the joy of a porpoise taking to the sea. But a couple of weeks before the end he was admitting that the journey was too long.

"I'm coming up with gravel and sand," he remarked in an allusion to the days of his youth in South Dakota when the well pump was primed but came up dry.

If the candidates are tired, the public may well be both tired and bored with the whole thing.

Humphrey, a former teacher as well as a practicing politician, knows an audience's attention span is limited. Like Goldwater, he felt the candidates might be losing their audience.

What to do about it? How long should the campaign last? "They ought to be like the British elections. If you can't get your point across in four weeks you ought to give it up," said Goldwater.

Humphrey, the vice president-elect, suggested in an NBC interview taped before flying off for a rest in the Virgin Islands that perhaps both parties could reach an understanding "that it might be well if we had our political conventions in September rather than in July and August."

That way, said Humphrey, there could be two weeks of preparation and then a 6-week, rather than a 10-week, campaign.

Rep. John S. Monagan thinks there should be a law against long campaigns. He is going to try to get one passed.

The Connecticut Democrat has announced he will introduce a bill when Congress reconvenes in January to limit presidential campaigns to just 60 days.

Calling the campaigns "electoral circuses," Monagan contends they are wasteful in money and time and exhaust the nervous and physical resources of the candidates.

Above all, however, Monagan believes they may be self-defeating.

"After the first informative period," he said, "they bore the elector and thus fail to serve a purpose."

Cash Balance Problems Face United States and Britain

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—If you're worried about a dwindling cash balance, you're in good company. The United States and Britain, among other wealthy nations, have similar problems.

Both nations this year expect to send abroad more money than they have received from other countries. The result: balance of payments deficits.

Like many private citizens and corporations, both nations are financially strong for the long term with growing assets and ample credit, but the temporary drain of foreign exchange reserves proves embarrassing.

Measures being taken by both countries to curb their payments deficits can affect the cost and kinds of goods you buy and possibly the kinds of jobs that may become available. Among other actions, the United States has stepped up its export expansion drive in order to sell more U.S.-made goods abroad. As more manufacturers become export-minded, more jobs are created. More than three million American jobs are said to depend on exports.

The United States has also imposed an interest-equalization tax on purchases of foreign securities, designed to slow the outflow of private capital.

Britain recently imposed a 15 per cent surcharge on imports and plans a tax rebate for British exporters. The surcharge will make it more difficult to sell American goods in Britain. The tax rebate may lead to a wider variety of British goods in American stores and also will foster increased competition against U.S. exports in other foreign markets.

Threats of retaliation by European Common Market and other European countries raise questions about the future direction of world trade: higher tariffs, and higher prices, restricting the choice of consumers; or lower tariffs and freer trade, affecting the competitive position of protected industries and some of the jobs involved in current production for domestic markets.

During mid-November the "Kennedy Round" of tariff negotiations will enter a critical new phase at Geneva with the filing of "exceptions lists" of products each country will want to withhold from bargaining. Then all members of the European Free Trade Association on Nov. 19-20 will meet at Geneva to discuss their reactions to Britain's new import charges.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Care, Watchfulness Aid Back Sufferers

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Association

A slipped disk, a ruptured disk, a prolapsed disk, a herniated disk all mean the same thing.

A disk is a soft cartilage between two vertebrae. It sometimes protrudes beyond its normal bounds and impinges on the spinal nerves. This happens most frequently in the lower back and is the cause of about 90 per cent of the complaints that used to be called sciatica.

The condition is seen more often in middle-aged housewives and office workers than in well-developed laborers. The immediate cause is not always easily identified, but often it is a sudden twisting of the back that is accompanied by a sharp pain. The victim usually feels the pain most acutely when he gets out of bed in the morning. He is most comfortable lying on his back on the floor or some other unyielding surface. He would rather sit erect on a hard chair than to slouch in an overstuffed chair. Coughing and sneezing aggravate the pain. Given these symptoms, your doctor can confirm the diagnosis with an X-ray.

For the acute case five to 10 days of bed rest is often all that is needed for a cure. The less the victim uses his back during this time, the better will be the results. Heat from an electric pad helps some victims, but appears to make others worse. Massage and other forms of manipulation may be definitely harmful.

When the victim has recovered, it is essential that he remember at all times that his back is not as good as new and that it may act up again if he doesn't refrain from heavy lifting, especially if he attempts to lift with his back rather than his legs.

This is always dangerous, and may have been the cause of his trouble in the first place. He must also avoid sudden twisting or bending movements. Exercises to strengthen the muscles of the hips, back and abdomen (but no twisting exercises) will help to prevent a recurrence. Back supports are of little value except as a reminder that the wearer has a trick back.

If rest fails to give complete relief or if the victim has repeated attacks, his best course would be to have the protruded portion of the disk removed surgically. Some persons so greatly fear an operation that they would rather put up with the pain. But the operation is not particularly formidable and the results are almost uniformly good.

The Mature Parent

Handle Adolescents Gently

By Mrs. Muriel Lawrence
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: I have a girl, 13, who is giving me trouble. She puts on a deaf act when I speak to her. She gets her nail polish on my towels but when I show her the stain and how it didn't come out in the laundry, she goes right on with what she is doing as if I weren't there. She is very careless. Yesterday she forgot to turn off my steam iron but when I told her about this, she went on rolling her hair up instead of answering me.

ANSWER: What did you want her to say? Did you want her to say, "Oh, yes, dear mother! I did leave the iron on. I am so sorry. I agree with you. It was extremely careless of me!" Well, she's not going to. So stop trying to force her to agree with you. That's what you've been trying to do by pursuing her with your complaints about her carelessness. You want her to feel the same resentment at it which you feel. She doesn't. As far as she is concerned, her carelessness is just fine.

So I suggest that you allow her to retain her different opinion of her actions. Instead, try to change the content yourself by saying briefly, "Next time turn the iron off so that you can continue to use it." Hand her an old towel she can stain to her heart's content, saying, "Please use this when you manicure your nails."

She will use the old towel if you refrain from comment on her misuse of your good ones. She will remember to switch off the iron if you don't try to compel her admission of careless forgetfulness. Your daughter is an Adolescent—and if there's one thing that the Adolescent can't stand from grownups, it's our attempts to control his opinions. Whether those opinions concern his own behavior, the values of hair-dos, they represent his Independence to the Adolescent—and we try to force our differing ones upon him at the inevitable cost of what you call "trouble."

Because the child's agreement assures us of our rightness. If we can get him to share our opinion of his behavior, how wonderful we feel! No more worry about our being wrong or "unloving" or "dominating" or any of those other terrible things bad parents are. Why, the child himself has acknowledged our superiority!

Your child resents you because she resents being used as your moral support.

4-H Clubs, Members Recognized

Linda Callis, Hughesville Happy Helpers and Mike Dabner, Striped College, received the Danforth Awards Saturday night as the top girl and top boy in Pettis County 4-H for outstanding leadership. They also received a copy of the Danforth book "I Dare You," which is a challenge to youth.

The presentation was made at the 4-H Recognition Night Program held in the auditorium of Smith-Cotton High School by E. L. Birdsong, County Court judge of the Eastern District.

The 4-H alumni award, presented to the woman and man who have been 4-H members growing up and have been very successful in life. Mrs. Hugo Kappelman, Route 1, LaMonte, and Leroy Van Dyke, were selected for these awards, with Larry Hale, director of the University Extension Center, making the presentation. The award for their famous son who is known for his country music and also as a composer, was received by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Van Dyke of Smithton. Leroy Van Dyke has a ten year record in 4-H, a graduate of the University of Missouri, is very friendly and has been most successful in his career.

Mrs. Kappelman was in 4-H as a youngster and has continued her interest and work in it along with her career as a housewife, mother and teacher in Mark Twain School. She has organized two 4-H clubs and has been a leader for the past five years in the Dresden 4-H Club of which her young daughter, Gwendolyn, is a member and received the top award in the county given to a girl for livestock.

The "Friend of 4-H" award given each year to some individual, company or organization which has helped 4-H members went to the Central Missouri Electric Co-op, George Ray, manager, and was accepted by Ed Walters, power use advisor.

The Key Awards, a gold key which may be used on a charm bracelet or key ring, were presented for outstanding leadership in 4-H by C. W. Munson, City Service Oil Company representative, to Larry Lewellen, Mike Dabner and Mike Riley all of Striped College; Kent Vannoy, South Side County Liners, Bill Wall, Longwood Neighbors, Mary Lamm, Smithton, and Barbara Gerken, Dresden. The Junior Leader Public Speaking Awards were presented to Patty Smiley, Sacred Heart Busy Bees 4-H Club, who went to district and Richard Grant, Houstonia 4-H Club, who went to district and state. The presentation was made by William Phillips, Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

Receiving the Dress Revue pins were: Barbara Gerken, Dresden; Kathy Page, Smithton; Dee Ann Kasak, Striped College, with Berry Elliott, presiding County Court judge, making the presentations.

The 4-H Nutritional Award went to Linda Mergen, Quisenberry Hustlers, with Russell McFarrich, American Dairy Association, making the presentation. Linda was also presented with a cook book.

The Extension Club 4-H Leadership award was presented by Mrs. Albert Anderson, Pettis County Home Economics Clubs, making the presentation to clubs with over 15 members. Striped College Extension Club, Mrs. Fred Staley, president, and Longwood Extension Club, Mrs. Clay Leftwich, president. To clubs with 15 members and under, Thursday Extension Club, Mrs. S. O. Campbell, president and Lake Creek Extension Club, Mrs. Melvin Schnakenberg, president.

In the first year member Standard Report Form Contest, with Miss Opal O'Brian, Extension Home Economist, presenting the ribbons were:

Blue Ribbon
Edith Porter, Dresden; Kathryn Ann Hunter, Quisenberry Hustlers; Elizabeth Bronson, Tanglehook; Becky Bingham, Tanglehook; Michael Garrison, South Abell; Sherry Moore, Heber Hunt Helping Hands; Ronald Temple, Smelser; Don Tatman, Tanglehook; Dennis Todd, Longwood Neighbors; Karen Darby, Longwood Neighbors; Denise Todd, Longwood Neighbors; Charles Mergen, Quisenberry Hustlers; Teresa Green, Beaman Arators.

Red Ribbon
Gloria Young, Tanglehook; Jerome Gieschen, Smithton; Glen Temple, Smelser; Marsha Kirchoff, Longwood Neighbors.

All the following of Jefferson Hi-Jinx: Carl Berry, Dwan Toliver, David Moore, Cindy Ann Berry, Joe Bill Fischer, Dennis Long, Nancy Ryan, Kathleen Ried, Charles Moore, Steven Bunch, Kathy Bunch and Charles Staley.

Grisham Enjoys Rushing Record

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG

Oklahoma fullback Jim Grisham ripped through Iowa State for 121 yards, his best day of the season, and set a big Eight career rushing record for fullbacks, surpassing Merwin Hodel Colorado '50.

Grisham pushed his career total to 2,197, including his 107 yards against Alabama in the Orange Bowl his sophomore season. Hodel had 2,102 for his three full seasons at Colorado. The Big Eight includes bowl games in its career records.

If it seems odd to establish a separate career record for fullbacks, let's hear from Oklahoma coach Gomer Jones on the subject.

"I've always believed fullbacks deserve a column of their own," Jones said. "They have the added duty of blocking for the halfbacks and more important, they have to carry the ball where the traffic is the thickest and it's hardest of all to advance."

The league's No. 3 career fullback is John (The Beast) Bayuk, Colorado '56, who gained 2,053, including 121 against Clemson in the Orange Bowl.

Grisham now is a strong contender for the league rushing crown won two straight years by Gale Sayers, the Kansas phantom. Grisham has 518 yards, Sayers 590, but Sayers has played one more game than Grisham.

Another fullback, Walt Garrison of Oklahoma State, is third with 471, with halfback Lance Rentzel of Oklahoma fourth on 395. Then come a pair of fullbacks, Ron Oelschlaeger of Kansas and Frank Solich of Nebraska, both at 359, and Missouri's Gary Lane, 358.

Lane widened his total offense lead to 975-846 over Glenn Baxter, Oklahoma State quarterback, with Nebraska's Bob Churchich third at 741.

Churchich took over the conference passing lead, 657-634 over Baxter, with a big day against Kansas. Lane is third at 617, Bernie McCall of Colorado has 469 and Bob Skahan of Kansas 415.

In total offense, Skahan holds the No. 4 spot with 667 yards. McCall has 653 and Sayers, the league's career rushing record holder, 645.

Nebraska end Freeman White became a top contender for the pass receiving crown with a big game against Kansas. Bill Symons of Colorado still leads with 251 yards on 25 catches. White has 250 on 13 and Rentzel 249 on 14. K-State's Doug Dusenbury widened his punting lead to 42.4 against Rentzel's 40.4-yard average. Kent McCloughan of Nebraska still leads in scoring with 62. Rentzel is second with 36 points.

In kickoff returns, Iowa State's Tom Vaughn leads with 379 on 16 returns. Larry Elliott of Oklahoma State has 350 on 14. Larry Shields of Oklahoma is top man in punt returns, 169 on 10. Missouri's Ken Boston leads with six pass interceptions, one more than OSU end Jack Jacobson.

Might Be Year For Quarterback

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

This may be the "year of the quarterback" in the Missouri Valley football, with Tulsa's Jerry Rhyme making statisticians dizzy.

It's also the "year of the other quarterbacks," referring to Brig Owens of Cincinnati and Tom LaFramboise of Louisville, both of whom already have more than 1,000 yards total offense this season but have gained little attention along-side Rhyme's leads.

The versatile Owens is the league's No. 3 rusher with 452 yards. He has completed 43 of 82 passes for 536 yards and three touchdowns, scored five touchdowns, kicked six extra points and has a 37.2 punting average, second best in the Valley.

With 1,038 yards on 184 offensive plays, his 5.6 yards a play compares to Rhyme's 6.6 yards a play. LaFramboise has hit 99 of 199 passes for 1123 yards and three touchdowns and has a net loss of 94 rushing.

LaFramboise—by a tiny margin—is even more of a one-man team than Rhyme, from one viewpoint. He has accounted for 67.7 per cent of his team's total offense yardage. Rhyme 67.6 per cent. Owens has accounted for more than half of Cincy's yardage.

This is one of very few records out of Rhyme's reach. It's held by Bud Schwenk, Washington of St. Louis, who accounted for 81 per cent of his team's total offense yardage in 1941.

Rhyme, of course, already owns a flock of one-game and season national records and most of the career marks are within reach. The statisticians discovered still another one within his reach, one which had been lost in the shuffle. Rhyme has thrown 111 passes in a row without an interception, 16 short of the national record.

Howard Twilley, Rhyme's favorite target, has 68 catches—just two short of the national mark — and 831 yards pass receiving, only 171 short of the NCAA record. Bob Daugherty of Tulsa is next, 378 on 36 catches.

Cincinnati's Al Nelson is the rushing leader with 581 yards, with A. D. Whitfield of North Texas next on 469. Twilley leads Nelson in the scoring race 75-58. Sullivan Mills took over the kickoff return lead with 227 on 11 returns. Carl Lockhart of North Texas retained the punting lead with 38.9 and Tulsa's Charles Hardt leads on four interceptions.

In the team statistics, Tulsa continues its pursuit of two national records set by Nevada in 1948—255 yards a game passing and 487 total offense. Tulsa's current averages are 318.5 pas-

Wittenberg Retains Top Grid Rating

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wittenberg, which has finished its season undefeated but has rejected participation in a bowl game, retained its No. 1 rating today in The Associated Press small - college football poll.

The Tigers from Springfield, Ohio, have led the Top Ten since the start of the season. This week they received nine of 16 first-place votes and 132 points over-all.

The other nine teams also remained in the select group but were shuffled around considerably.

Wittenberg trounced Wabash 42-7 last Saturday, completing its season at 8-0 and extending its unbeaten streak to 29 games, longest in the country. The Tigers were tied once last season.

Dean Gives Coach Much Of Credit

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP) — "I have to give pitching coach Marv Grissom a lot of the credit," says Dean Chance, the Los Angeles Angels' right - hander who was named the Cy Young Award winner as the best major league pitcher of 1964.

A special committee of the Baseball Writers Association of America gave Chance 17 of the 20 votes cast, making him the third successive Los Angeles hurler to be selected.

He succeeds Sandy Koufax of the Dodgers, who received one vote although he was injured part of the season. The Dodgers' Don Drysdale won in 1962.

Larry Jackson of the Chicago Cubs, whose 24-11 record made him the majors' winningest pitcher, was named on the other two ballots, the committee announced Monday.

"I'm really happy about the honor," the 23-year-old off-season farmer said. "I thought I had a pretty good shot at it after the season when the statistics came out."

"I've been with Grissom since 1961," said Chance, who posted a 20-9 record and a 1.65 ERA. "He gave me confidence and taught me different little things like following through and smoothing out my motion."

"Of course, this year, I had three years of experience, and I used it all to the best of my ability. I learned how to pitch."

Chance used his blazing fast ball and slider to rack up the most shutouts in the majors — 11. A record-tying five of them were 1-0 decisions. The last pitcher to achieve this mark was Carl Hubbell in 1933.

Chance also had the most complete games in the American League with 15. His 208 strikeouts put him a close third in the AL behind Al Downing of the Yankees and Camilo Pascual of Minnesota.

Asked if winning the award might have a beneficial effect on his salary next year, Chance replied:

"I think this honor and the other awards I'm getting will give me a bigger status and make my presence worth more next season."

Chance started 35 games and finished seven of his 11 relief appearances. He worked 278 1-3 innings, walked only 86 and permitted only seven homers. Six of his nine defeats were by a single run.

Boyer Outstanding

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Ken Boyer, third baseman of the baseball world champions, the St. Louis Cardinals, has been voted outstanding sports celebrity in St. Louis for 1964.

Boyer will be honored at an Elks Club annual sports celebrity dinner Nov. 19. The dinner will be at the Chase-Park Plaza Hotel. Boyer got 552 points in voting by the St. Louis area's sports writers and sportscasters. Boyer also won the award in 1959.

Full Impact Of Victory Is Outlined

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Lt. Billy Mills said Monday the full impact of his upset victory in the Olympic 10,000 meters at Tokyo came when he mounted the stand to receive the gold medal before 80,000 persons.

"Off in the distance I saw three flags, one slightly higher than the others," he told the Byline Club here. "I was proud of winning but I started to realize why I was so proud. I realized that was our flag and heard our national anthem and realized I was from a country where you have a chance, no matter what."

"I was so proud I was on the verge of tears," he said.

Mills, 26, attended Haskell Institute for Indians in Lawrence, Kan., as an orphan and is a graduate of the University of Kansas. He and his wife, Pat, and their child live in Coffeyville, Kan.

"My wife kept me going during training and during the race," he said. "Every time I rounded one curve I was looking straight at Pat. At the other end I could loaf a little, but I'd always speed up coming toward Pat."

Mills was presented with a plaque in recognition of his "great breakthrough in Olympic distance running for the United States."

He is the first American ever to win the 10,000 meters, which is just over 6 1/4 miles. Mills said he ran the first two miles in 8:52 and the first three miles only two seconds slower than his fastest time in a three-mile race, as Australia's Ron Clark set a fast opening pace.

Bill Easton, Kansas track coach, said "I just sat down and cried after that race and the next day I couldn't speak. Billy reached down for a tremendous winning sprint down the stretch."

Notre Dame Team First, Second Time

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Notre Dame is the No. 1 team in the country for the second straight week, but the unbeaten Irish must make a strong showing against Michigan State this Saturday to receive another vote of confidence.

The Associated Press panel of sports writers and sportscasters placed Notre Dame at the head of the major college Top Ten again this week but only by 13 points over Alabama, the Southeastern Conference champion.

A shaky 17-15 victory over Pitt last Saturday, coupled with Alabama's 17-9 triumph over Louisiana State, another member of the Top Ten, left the Irish with a slim lead, built on 26 of 41 first-place votes.

Alabama replaced Ohio State as runner-up, receiving 11 first-place votes. The Buckeyes tumbled to seventh following their 27-0 loss to Penn State.

Unbeaten Arkansas and Nebraska and once-beaten Texas each advanced one spot to third, fourth and fifth, respectively. Michigan bolted from nowhere to sixth while Oregon State moved into the Top Ten in eighth place.

LSU, one of five of the elite to lose last Saturday, dropped to ninth, and Georgia Tech slipped to 10th. Florida and Purdue fell out altogether.

In seeking its eighth victory, Notre Dame plays a team it hasn't defeated since 1954. In the ensuing period, Michigan State has knocked off the Irish seven times. The Spartans also are fresh from a 21-7 victory that knocked Purdue out of the Top Ten and out of the lead in the Big Ten.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses, and points:

1. Notre Dame (26)	380
2. Alabama (11)	367
3. Arkansas (3)	334
4. Nebraska	283
5. Texas	220
6. Michigan	184
7. Ohio State	138
8. Oregon State (1)	114
9. Louisiana State	69
10. Georgia Tech	50

Ford Recuperating After Arm Operation

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Whitley Ford was recuperating today from an operation on his left arm, and the New York Yankees' celebrated southpaw should be able to pitch again by spring training.

The surgery, performed Monday by Dr. Denton Cooley, was to correct a circulatory ailment that had sidelined Ford during the middle stages of the American League pennant race, and again during the World Series.

A spokesman at St. Luke's Hospital said Ford would be discharged in about a week.

Both Clay, Liston In Condition

BOSTON (AP) — Sonny Liston's left shoulder is A-OK for his heavyweight title rematch with Cassius Clay on Nov. 16 but the champion already has proclaimed himself the winner and is looking for the rabbit-former champion Floyd Patterson.

Both Clay and Liston were pronounced in perfect condition by Dr. Nathan Shapiro, Massachusetts Boxing Commission physician, at a preliminary medical check Monday.

Minutes earlier, Clay staged one of his side shows, snarling traffic on Commonwealth Avenue and drawing the attention he sought in a mock hunt for the Big Bear, his name for Liston.

Chief concern of Dr. Shapiro's examination was the left shoulder which was injured and caused Liston to lose his title to Clay after six rounds in Miami last February.

"I can find no restriction of motion," Dr. Shapiro said. "The biceps and entire muscular system has been rebuilt completely since the injury."

Liston, a 9-to-5 favorite in the Las Vegas line, said "I would say I'd win in less than 15 rounds. I'm in better shape than I've ever been in my life. Beyond that I leave the talking up to Clay."

Clay, who did not confront Liston face-to-face but did run alongside his car as the latter arrived and left, again predicted he would win in nine rounds, "maybe before that." He raised nine fingers for cameramen and hailed it as "another great prediction."

"I figure the guy's afraid," said Clay. "It's do or die for him. He's going to be desperate. I figure he'll stalk me. He says he's going to wait for me. I figure he'll get beat even worse that way. I'm a much better boxer. I'm going to hit him a lot to the body."

"I know we are going to win. After we win we want the rabbit — Patterson. I think of Liston as the hunter and Patterson as the rabbit."

Boxing Commission Chairman Herman Greenberg reminded newsmen that the contract included a clause that the winner of the coming fight must meet one of the first four rated contenders and that $50,000 of the winner's purse will be retained to assure compliance. The contenders presumably will come from the Ring Magazine ratings since the World Boxing Association refuses to recognize the fight or Clay as champion.

Pistons May Name New Cage Mentor

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Don Wattrick, new executive manager of the Detroit Pistons of the National Basketball Association, is expected to announce today the release of Coach Charley Wolf and the signing of a veteran player on the Detroit team as the new mentor.

Wattrick, a 54-year-old Detroit radio and sports personality named to the executive post Monday, said he hoped to make an announcement through his Detroit office.

In Fort Wayne, Ind., Pistons' owner Fred Zollner said Wattrick is acting on his own initiative in team matters. Zollner added that he expects to hear a report from Wattrick when he returns from the East later this week.

Wattrick declined direct comment on the coaching change, except to say that he "wants to know why we're not winning. So I look at first things first. I look at the guy that has been in control of the team."

"Any changes will be made by me and I intend to change the coach as soon as possible," he added.

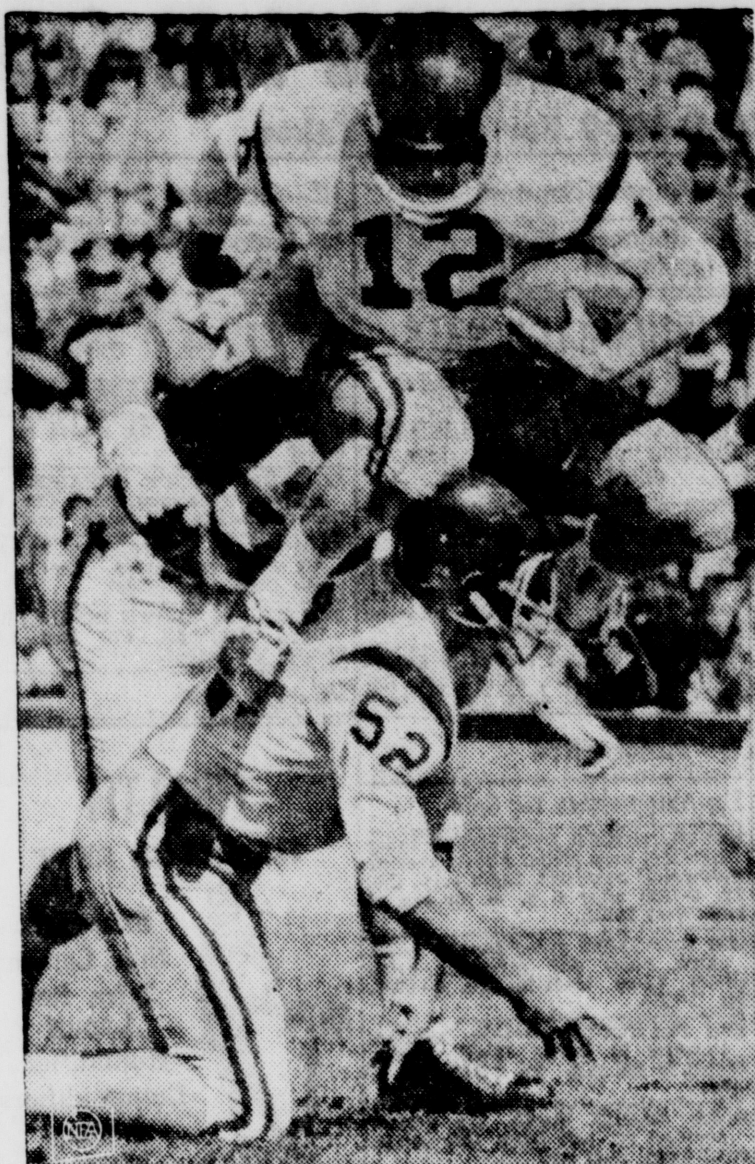

Citing the Pistons' 2-9 losing record, Wattrick said one of his first acts in his new job would be to "try to make this team a winner." The Pistons haven't had a winning season since moving from Fort Wayne in 1957.

To Defend Title

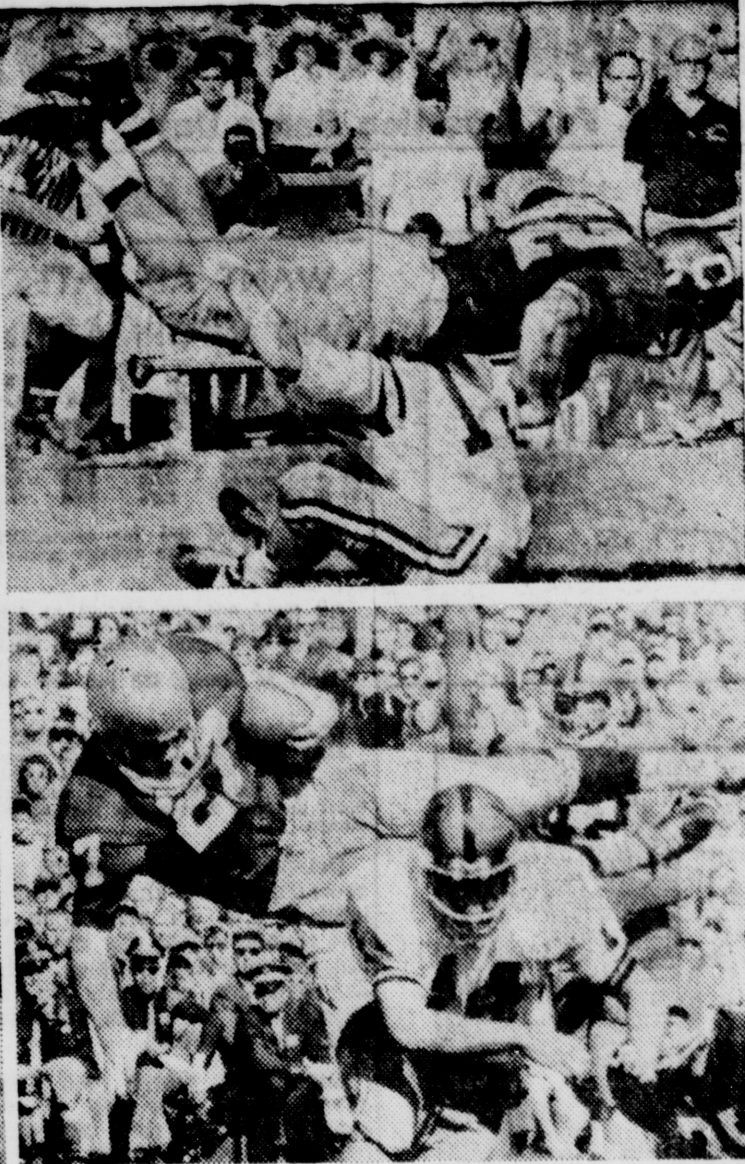

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Middleweight boxing champion Joey Giardello will defend his title against Ruben (Hurricane) Carter Dec. 14 in Convention Hall — with or without television — says Giardello's attorney, Michael Del Collo.

The postponed bout was to have taken place in Las Vegas on Oct. 23, but Giardello walked out when promoters couldn't come up with a $55,000 guarantee for him. Carter was to have received $12,500.

The official announcement and signing of new contracts will take place Thursday in Philadelphia, Del Collo said.

Gilchrist Looks Like A Repeater

NEW YORK (AP) — Cookie Gilchrist, Buffalo's crashing fullback, is beginning to look like the first repeater as American Football League rushing champion.

Gilchrist gained 99 yards in nine carries Sunday against the New York Jets, including a 67-yard touchdown run. Cookie boosted his season total to 720 yards in 151 tries. Matt Snell, the Jets' rookie, trails in second place with 579 yards in 131 rushes.

Len Dawson strengthened his lead in the passing department with four touchdown passes for Kansas City. Back in good health after a mid-season rib injury, Dawson has thrown 10 TD passes in the last two games.

Gino Cappelletti of the Boston Patriots moved to within two points of his fourth consecutive 100-point season. Cappelletti had four field goals Friday night. He had made good on 21 of 31 field-goal attempts, kicked 23 straight conversions and also scored two touchdowns for a total of 98 points. Pete Gogolak, Buffalo's kicker is second with 72 points.

Houston's Charley Hennigan remained the pass receiving leader with 60 catches for 1,010 yards and five touchdowns.

County Board Studies Action Against League

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Eugene Grobschmidt, Milwaukee County board chairman, says he is in favor of a suggestion that the county, assured that the Braves will make their home in Milwaukee for one more year, consider an antitrust action against the National League.

The antitrust suit was proposed Monday by Rep. Henry Reuss, D-Wis., who said the league's action in Phoenix, Ariz., last week "is a clear attempt at restraint of trade."

In a unanimous decision, the league told the Braves to keep to their contract with the county to play all 1965 home games in County Stadium, but approved the shift of the club to Atlanta for the 1966 season.

Reuss said that "baseball's 42-year-old exemption from the antitrust laws is at an end." He said there was no reason for the county to await possible action by the Department of Justice or the Congress before initiating action.

"Chairman Emanuel Celler of the House Judiciary Committee has likewise expressed the view that Milwaukee County should call the antitrust laws into play," Reuss said.

Grobschmidt said Monday night he would confer as soon as possible with county corporation counsel Robert Russell about such a suit.

12 teams following football action this weekend.

Teams on the list include Alabama, Arizona State, Arkansas, Auburn, Duke, Florida, Florida State, Georgia Tech, Georgia, Kansas, LSU, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, New Mexico, North Carolina State, Syracuse, Tennessee, Texas Tech, Texas, Tulsa, Wyoming and Utah.

Cause for Cheer

CINCINNATI (AP) — The shaken Cincinnati Royals had one cause for good cheer today — the Big O may be back in action Friday.

Oscar Robertson, the Royals' one-man team, has been out of action since he suffered an eye injury Nov. 1 in a game against Detroit. Since then, the Royals have dropped three straight.

The 10 stitches in Robinson's right eyeball came out Monday morning and doctors at Christ Hospital said he would be able to play this weekend.

Wrong Day

NEW YORK (AP) — A guy walked into the National Horse Show in Madison Square Garden Monday night, looked around with a puzzled expression on his face and went to his seat.

The seat was occupied so he took his complaint to the chief usher.

"Someone's in my seat," he growled. "Get him out. And by the way, what time does the wrestling start?"

With winter coming on, Offen came to the aid of his brother-in-law, doing him up with a toe cover in lutetia mink, lable,

Late Starter Shows Debut On NBC-TV

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A pair of late starters joined the season's new television programs Monday night, NBC's Jonathan Winters in his first special and ABC's Les Crane, who hopes to compete with Johnny Carson for the late evening viewers.

Winters, who has an imaginative, way-out style all his own, opened the hour smashing. He introduced a number of characters as De Gaulle, Khrushchev, even Cary Grant as he stood with a puppy in his arms. Then he brought on a dear old lady carrying an apple pie, followed by two cute kids, one carrying a flag.

"That's it, folks," he confided, beaming benevolently. "Something for everybody. We're going for the ratings tonight, folks."

This was followed by a bright satire on all those prairie schooner movies and television shows, with Winters playing the wagon master and being his outrageous best.

Subsequent bits did not move quite as happily. Winters is a most unusual inventive fellow and to many of us is wildly funny, but I suspect he is not everybody's dish.

ABC's favorite adjective in describing Les Crane and his new nightly conversation show is "explosive." It appeared, unfortunately, that somebody forgot to keep the powder dry for the first show.

Washington Capsules

WASHINGTON (AP) — A North Carolina educator says there is no real hope for success in a war against poverty unless it is fought simultaneously on many fronts.

Speaking Monday to the Association of State Universities and Land Grant Colleges, Minnie Brown, assistant state home economics agent, called for "a total community attack (on poverty) with coordinated action by a number — if not all — public agencies and volunteer groups in the community."

WASHINGTON (AP) — An official said Monday that the Republican National Committee has a sizable surplus on hand, but he declined to disclose the amount.

Reports have said the surplus from campaign donations would reach $2 million, but a committee official has said it would be less than that.

The Ripon Society, a private Republican research and policy group, suggested an independent audit of the national committee's accounts.

The society, composed of Republicans from business, the professions and the academic world, noted there have been reports "that some campaign monies have been held in reserve for post-election Goldwaterite activities."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission reports that costs of developing and manufacturing atomic weapons have increased since the limited nuclear test-ban treaty went into effect.

The AEC said Monday this was mainly a result of costs related to the safeguards in connection with the test-ban treaty, referring to "increased underground testing, maintenance of weapons laboratories, and developing a readiness capability for the conduct of atmospheric tests."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal grants totaling $25 million are being distributed on a matching basis to the states and U.S. possessions to improve public library services, Secretary of Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze announced today.

New Airplane Can Hover Motionless

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Federal Aviation Agency has certified a single-engine plane that can hover almost motionless in the air.

The plane was built in Pittsburg, Kan., by the Helio Aircraft Corp. It is called the H-250 but is better known as the Helio Courier II.

The certificate, issued in Kansas City Monday, authorizes the company to manufacture the aircraft for the public market. Earlier models are being used by the armed forces.

The plane can take off in only 75 feet and land in even less distance. It is designed for inaccessible areas such as those in Alaska, Africa and mountainous sections.

Mike McDermott, test pilot, took the plane up from Muncie-

FAMILIAR AFFAIR

NO HELP AROUND HOME? ME? GOSH, MOM, HOW CAN YOU SAY THAT?

DON'T I WIN THAT KEEN TURKEY LAST THANKSGIVING?

OKAY... OKAY... I'LL GIVE YOU A HAND...

BUT I'M NOT THE ONLY ONE WHO GOT ATTACHED TO HIM!

By NEAL ADAMS

BEN CASEY

DEADLY SERIOUS

NO, THANK YOU! WHAT DO YOU MEAN, MORE? IN ENVELOPES IN YOUR BOXES AT THE HOTEL... WHAT CHECKS FOR $1000?

...ALONG WITH A NOTE EXPRESSING MY GRATITUDE FOR YOUR "UNDERSTANDING" AND FOR EXAMINING UNCLE BERNARD.

CHARLES... NO! YOU CAN'T BE SERIOUS!

SAVE YOUR BREATH, MAGGIE, HE CAN AND IS! I CAN SMELL IT!

By AL VEMEER

PRISCILLA'S POP

TRUE STORY

She's always late at supper time, she never wipes her feet.

Her homework isn't done on time, Her room is never neat.

Oh, I could cite a hundred things I disapprove about her.

And yet I'm ready to admit I couldn't do without her.

By LESLIE TURNER

BUGS BUNNY

LAST QUARTER

I'M IN LUCK! THERE'S SYLVESTER!

I'LL TAKE THIS RADIO! YER TWO MONTHS BEHIND IN YER PAYMENTS!

DISASTER HAS STRUCK!

I SAY, GUV'NOR...

...THERE'S ONLY A MINUTE LEFT I WANT TO HEAR HOW IT COMES OUT!

IT'S A PASS

By LESLIE TURNER

CAPTAIN EASY

SIGHTSEER

GO RIGHT UP, BOTH ROOMS ON THE SECOND FLOOR ARE VACANT!

FINE, THERE'LL BE THREE OF US... ALL QUIET, FOLKSY, LOVABLE CHAPS WHO LIKE A HOMEY ATMOSPHERE

MR. KOONTZ... THE OTHER TENANT, IN THE TOP FLOOR, IS SO QUIET YOU'D HARDLY KNOW HE'S THERE!

AH... THE ROOMS WILL DO FINE! I'M A RETIRED-UN-PROFESSOR, IN WASHINGTON ON A SIGHT-SEEING TOUR!

THEN YOU'LL BE HANDY TO THAT FABULOUS EXHIBIT OF PRICELESS OLD MASTERS IN THE MUSEUM NEARBY!

SO THAT'S WHAT THOSE CROWDS WERE YES, WE MUST SEE THAT! WE'LL MOVE IN TODAY
